U.S. Losses In Vietnam Increase During Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — The total of Americans killed last week in combat in Vietnam climbed to 102, a weekly toll exceeding 100 for the first time in five weeks, the U.S. Command announced today.

The increased toll, 24 higher than the total reported for the week before, reflected a slight increase in ground fighting involving Americans, including one battle northwest of Saigon last Friday in which 10 Americans were killed.

Enemy casualties also increased sharply, to 2,303 as compared with 1,624 reported last Thursday. The Saigon government said its battlefield dead totaled 297, four less than the week before.

The U.S. Command said 39,149 Americans and 564,607 of the enemy have been reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

A total of 530 Americans were wounded last week, the U.S. Command said.

Meanwhile, the Saigon government released one of its leading political prisoners, the Buddhist monk Thich Thien

Raise Money For Unions In GE Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The AFL-CIO has set machinery in motion aimed at raising millions of dollars to back 13 unions striking the General Electric Co., the nation's fourth largest industrial corporation.

The strike enters its fourth day with GE officials insisting their one-and-only contract offer will not be enlarged.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said Wednesday that three labor leaders had been delegated to build a multimillion-dollar war chest with contributions from unions around the country. They are I.W. Abel, president of the Steelworkers; Thomas W. Gleason, Longshoremen's president; and Joseph D. Keenan, secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the independent United Electrical Workers are leading the 13-union strike coalition, which represents 147,000 GE employees. The unions say 132,000 men are on strike; GE places the figure at 125,000.

Production was halted at an undetermined number of GE's 280 plants in 33 states. The largest plant, in Schenectady, N.Y., was closed after sporadic violence.

Engineers Join Strike Against GE

CINCINNATI (AP) — The International Union of Operating Engineers became the fourth union to strike at General Electric Thursday.

About 23 of the Engineers Local 20 joined picketers in front of the GE jet engine plant in suburban Evendale.

The United Automobile Workers and the International Association of Machinists are striking at Evendale. The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is on strike at GE's Blue Ash electrical equipment plant.

Proclaim Nov. 2 As 'Vote 19 Day'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today proclaimed Sunday, Nov. 2, as "Vote 19 Day" in Ohio, recognizing the referendum vote next Tuesday on the question of lowering the voting age.

If the constitutional amendment issue passes, 19 and 20-year-olds will be able to vote in the 1970 elections. The governor urged voters to cast their ballots on the issue so that the decision will be "representative of the public will."

Cloud Foresees Changes In Taxes For Buckeyes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The city income tax will be maintained as a major source of municipal revenue in any proposed general tax reform in Ohio, according to State Auditor Roger Cloud.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Ohio Public Expenditure Council here Wednesday night, Cloud said the income tax produced $200 million in 1968. This compared with $217 million in property taxes collected by all 936 Ohio cities and villages in the same year.

Cloud also predicted: —Legislative extension of income tax coverage to schools, either with state participation or on a local basis. —The property tax will continue as an important part of local government income, but its relative importance will decline. —Continued strong support of education programs because of job skills and training are preferable to welfare programs and dependence. —Ohio will continue to rank low on the scale of tax burden when compared to sister states, regardless of the impact of future action by the state and local governments. —Cloud said that state and local governments are jointly involved in four major programs —education, highways, welfare and the operation of institutions for mental health and correction. —"Nothing contributes to the economic expansion of the state so directly as does a proper planning and improvement of public roads," he said in citing

Draft Reform Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to open up President Nixon's draft lottery plan for a sweeping Selective Service overhaul stretched into a second day today after nervous House leaders abruptly canceled a Wednesday night vote.

Dissidents said the delay gave Nixon and House leaders time to line up votes needed to restrict House action to the lottery plan only.

"It's a long time between (Wednesday night and this afternoon) if the President really wants to move in and work on them," said Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo.

The drive to open up the lottery bill for rewriting the entire draft act on the House floor was assumed headed for easy defeat until the vote was called off in a surprise turnabout by House leaders Wednesday night.

They reportedly believed they had the votes to defeat the move even though many congressmen had left for the night—but were unsure enough to delay the vote until nearly all members would be on hand.

Bolling charged during House debate the prohibition against broad draft reform was contrived to force Congress to turn its responsibility for writing Selective Service laws over to Nixon.

But Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., promised his House Armed Services Committee will take up broad draft revision next year. He said the lottery plan alone was being put to Congress now only because of Nixon's strong request for it.

Bolling's forces have said their draft proposals could be approved by the House in a week to 10 days.

Their amendments range from repeal of the draft except in time of declared war to eliminating college deferments in time of war.

Wright State Slates Mercer County Campus

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The future home of the Western Ohio Branch Campus of Wright State University will be on 118 acres of land situated three miles east of U.S. 127 on Ohio 29 bordering Grand Lake St. Marys in Mercer County.

Trustees of the Western Ohio Educational Foundation announced selection of this site, which will have a 1,423-foot frontage on the lake.

The site was a unanimous choice of the trustees' site committee, selected from a total of 17 proposed. Total price of the 118 acres is $206,000. However, in the agreement a gift of $50,000 was made by the Andrews family, owner of the land to be purchased.

The property will be paid for by the foundation trustees through donations and gifts. It will be deeded to Wright State at a later date. The state has appropriated $2 million to the branch to begin development of the campus.

Chicago Trial Like 'Alice In Wonderland'

Mine Safety Bill Nears Final Passage

Nixon May Get Bill In Time For Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Landmark health and safety legislation for the nation's coal mines is headed for the President, praised by the men it protects as welcome news, but long overdue.

Little basic difference exists in the version of the bill passed overwhelmingly by the House Wednesday, 389-4, and one approved earlier in the Senate, 73-0.

Legislative conferees could conceivably get it on President Nixon's desk for signing into law by Nov. 20 — the first anniversary of the Farmington, W.Va., mine explosion which killed 78 men and triggered demands for safety reform.

The measure, also aimed at eliminating black lung disease, would require mine operators to cut coal dust levels to less than half the amount the average miner now breathes, install new safety equipment to lessen the danger from gas explosion and fire, and improve ventilation in underground shafts.

They would have six years to comply with all the regulations. "My God, it's a wonderful thing," said John "Red" Smith of Uniontown, Pa., who has been digging coal for 30 years. "Most of the fellas didn't talk about it as it worked its way through Congress, they just kept their fingers crossed."

Some miners in Pikeville, Ky., still had reservations. "The dust should be cut down to zero," one said.

J. C. Arison of Nematoclin, Pa., complained about the "length of time mine owners have to comply with the new regulations, 'but at least we have our foot in the door.'"

Under the House bill, the maximum permissible concentration of dust in the mines would be 4.5 milligrams per cubic meter of air within six months after enactment, and 3.0 milligrams six months later. The Senate bill would reduce it to 2.0 milligrams within six years.

It would be the first time federal health standards would be applied to coal mines.

Senate Finance Committee Badly Split On Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee, sharply divided on how best to give tax relief to individuals, pushed ahead today toward final action on the massive tax reform bill.

Members argued for hours Wednesday over whether the key relief provision in the bill would be an increase in the $600 personal exemption or a cut in the tax rates in all brackets as voted by the House.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., in predicting a decision would come today added he was confident the committee would meet its commitment to wind up work on the 368-page bill sometime Friday.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., leading the fight to raise the personal exemption to $1,000, told reporters he thought he stood a good chance after Wednesday's long discussion of his plan.

Other members said the committee seemed to be about evenly divided with two or three undecided senators holding the key.

Nixon administration officials attending the closed-door session strongly opposed any boost in the exemption.

They said it would knock too many taxpayers, 12 million, off the rolls and that a $1,000 exemption costing $12 billion would take far too much revenue from the Treasury.

Gore declared the exemption increase "would provide the tax relief where it is really needed — to the low and middle income taxpayer, particularly with children to educate."

He told the committee 90 per cent of the relief from his plan would go to persons with less

Many of those making pleas were members of Students for a Democratic Society which was outlawed on the campus following the disturbances.

Nine of the defendants drew one-year jail sentences, with all but 45 days suspended, plus fines of $250 and costs.

Fulbright, Nixon Forces Clash On Situation In Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior senators on the Foreign Relations Committee who made life miserable for President Lyndon B. Johnson over Vietnam are banging heads with the Nixon administration on U.S. policy in Laos.

After committee members clashed Wednesday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, both sides indicated they hadn't been swayed during the closed door meeting on Laos and arms limitation efforts.

"I don't think there is going to be any change in policy, not now," Rogers said of U.S. involvement in Laos.

"I think the hearings will alter the administration's views," declared Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., referring to hearings by a subcommittee on the Laos issue.

Rogers said U.S. involvement in supporting Laotian anti-Communist efforts goes back eight years and should have been no surprise to the veteran senators.

In addition to Fulbright, others critical of the U.S. policy included the committee's senior Republican member, George D. Aiken of Vermont; Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky. They said they had not known until recent hearings how large the U.S. involvement was.

Rogers' contention that the senators should have known all about what has been going on in Laos was supported by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Milton Young, R-N.D., a senior member of the Appropriations Committee.

Arabs Hit New Airport In Lebanon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arab guerrillas attacked Lebanon's new military airport at Klayat early today, supported by rockets, mortars and artillery fire from nearby Syria, the Lebanese government announced.

Fighting also raged around the mountain town of Rashaya, where government forces were said to have beaten back another guerrilla attack on their outer defenses.

A communique said a strong guerrilla force tried to occupy the village of Aiba, two miles from Rashaya, and the surrounding hills. Newsmen on the scene have reported the guerrillas already occupy Aiba, but the Lebanese army has not admitted this.

The new fighting came amid indications from Cairo that prospects for a peace agreement were improving. An Egyptian spokesman said Egypt had approved Lebanon's proposals for peace with the guerrillas, had agreed to mediate, and had invited guerrilla chief Yassir Arafat to Cairo for peace talks.

At Klayat, in north Lebanon about three miles from the Syrian border, the guerrillas were driven off after a 30-minute gun fight and suffered heavy losses, the Lebanese communique said. It reported one building hit by a rocket, the runway slightly damaged and one soldier wounded.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's income from all sources hit $1 billion Wednesday, five days sooner than it reached the same mark last year, State Auditor Roger Cloud reported.

Ruling Stuns Administration 'Go-Slowers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has stripped southern school officials of their favorite legal crutch and ordered an end to delay in the desegregation of public schools.

The unanimous decision, given Wednesday night in a Mississippi case, said the "all deliberate speed" doctrine no longer may serve as a cover for the continued operation of segregated schools.

"The obligation of every school district is to terminate dual school systems at once and to operate now and hereafter only unitary schools," declared the decision, first under Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

The ruling was a stunning setback to the Nixon administration, which had maintained education officials needed more time to "validate" desegregation plans for schools in Mississippi.

Its import extends far beyond the state, reaching wherever racially separate schools remain as a vestige of segregation laws the court began declaring unconstitutional in 1954.

Beyond that, the decision could serve as a platform for legal attacks in the North. Though most northern school segregation is a result of neighborhood housing patterns, the ruling's effect in these situations was not immediately clear.

The court acted with urgent dispatch. It had conducted its hearing only last Thursday and issued its ruling during a recess, the first such move in nearly five years.

The opinion was unsigned, though some of the phrases bore the unmistakable imprint of Justice Hugo L. Black, who in

3 Sergeants Face Trial For Brutality

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Three former drill sergeants at the only Air Force basic training center have been charged with maltreatment of 14 recruits and will be tried by general courts-martial, officials announced.

A spokesman for Lackland Military Training Center said the veteran enlisted men will be tried separately and the first case could come to trial next week.

Maximum punishment would involve dishonorable discharges or forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and one year at hard labor for each offense.

Charged are Staff Sgt. Raymond T. Lucy, Jr., 28, a native of Lawrenceville, Va.; Staff Sgt. Daniel W. W. Clark, 34, of Oberlin, Ohio; and Sgt. Ronald E. Wood, 29, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Lucy has served the military nine years, Clark 14 and Wood 7.

A Lackland Air Force Base spokesman said Wednesday Lucy has been charged on seven counts of maltreatment, Clark four and Wood five.

Specific charges were not disclosed. The announcement said only that the sergeants are accused of "subjecting of basic trainees to instances of indignities and physical discomforts."

U.S. Losses In Vietnam Increase During Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — The total of Americans killed last week in combat in Vietnam climbed to 102, a weekly toll exceeding 100 for the first time in five weeks, the U.S. Command announced today.

The increased toll, 24 higher than the total reported for the week before, reflected a slight increase in ground fighting involving Americans, including one battle northwest of Saigon last Friday in which 10 Americans were killed.

Enemy casualties also increased sharply, to 2,303 as compared with 1,624 reported last Thursday. The Saigon government said its battlefield dead totaled 297, four less than the week before.

The U.S. Command said 39,149 Americans and 564,607 of the enemy have been reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

A total of 530 Americans were wounded last week, the U.S. Command said.

Meanwhile, the Saigon government released one of its leading political prisoners, the Buddhist monk Thich Thien

Minh, in an amnesty for 310 political prisoners in honor of South Vietnam's National Day Nov. 1.

Thien Minh walked smiling from the headquarters of the Saigon Military District where he had been held for nearly eight months. He told newsmen he had been treated well.

Cloud said that state and local governments are jointly involved in four major programs —education, highways, welfare and the operation of institutions for mental health and correction.

"Nothing contributes to the economic expansion of the state so directly as does a proper planning and improvement of public roads," he said in citing the millions of dollars being spent for highway purposes.

Turning to education, Cloud said:

"With state appropriations totaling $1.1 billion, nearly $200 million more than was spent for education in the last two years, there is unmistakable evidence of the legislative policy to provide the best in academic opportunity for all young people."

Cloud said that $624 million was spent for welfare in the last two years but that in the 1970-71 biennium the expenditures would reach $863 million, including $80 million for the dependent children program.

He told the committee 90 percent of the relief from his plan would go to persons with less than $20,000 a year income.

Some other advocates of an exemption increase said they were supporting it because their constituents were demanding this form of relief.

The committee did agree Wednesday on its own version of tax relief for single persons.

The House voted $650 million of annual relief for single persons 35 years and over by putting them under the tax schedule now reserved for heads of households, that is, single persons with dependents in their homes.

Finance went along with a Treasury plan which would accord less relief—$445 million. The proposed tax schedule means single persons would pay no more than 20 per cent above what married couples are now assessed. Some singles now pay 41 per cent more. The Treasury said this would cut taxes for 6 million single persons.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has stripped southern school officials of their favorite legal crutch and ordered an end to delay in the desegregation of public schools.

The unanimous decision, given Wednesday night in a Mississippi case, said the "all deliberate speed" doctrine no longer may serve as a cover for the continued operation of segregated schools.

"The obligation of every school district is to terminate dual school systems at once and to operate now and hereafter only unitary schools," declared the decision, first under Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

The ruling was a stunning setback to the Nixon administration, which had maintained education officials needed more time to "validate" desegregation plans for schools in Mississippi.

Its import extends far beyond the state, reaching wherever racially separate schools remain as a vestige of segregation laws the court began declaring unconstitutional in 1954.

Beyond that, the decision could serve as a platform for legal attacks in the North. Though most northern school segregation is a result of neighborhood housing patterns. The ruling's effect in these situations was not immediately clear.

The court acted with urgent dispatch. It had conducted its hearing only last Thursday and issued its ruling during a recess, the first such move in nearly five years.

The opinion was unsigned, though some of the phrases bore the unmistakable imprint of Justice Hugo L. Black, who in

3 Sergeants Face Trial For Brutality

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Three former drill sergeants at the only Air Force basic training center have been charged with maltreatment of 14 recruits and will be tried by general courts-martial, officials announced.

A spokesman for Lackland Military Training Center said the veteran enlisted men will be tried separately and the first case could come to trial next week.

Maximum punishment would involve dishonorable discharges or forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and one year at hard labor for each offense.

Charged are Staff Sgt. Raymond T. Lucy, Jr., 28, a native of Lawrenceville, Va.; Staff Sgt. Daniel W. W. Clark, 34, of Oberlin, Ohio; and Sgt. Ronald E. Wood, 29, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Lucy has served the military nine years, Clark 14 and Wood 7.

A Lackland Air Force Base spokesman said Wednesday Lucy has been charged on seven counts of maltreatment, Clark four and Wood five.

Specific charges were not disclosed. The announcement said only that the sergeants are accused of "subjecting of basic trainees to instances of indignities and physical discomforts."

Joseph Given Personnel Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert Joseph was named today as the new deputy director of the Ohio Department of Personnel.

Joseph has been personnel officer of the Department of Liquor Control since November, 1963, and was assistant personnel supervisor with the state highway department in 1957 and 1958.

A native of Martins Ferry, he was a varsity halfback at the University of Notre Dame from 1951 to 1954.

Raise Money For Unions In GE Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The AFL-CIO has set machinery in motion aimed at raising millions of dollars to back 13 unions striking the General Electric Co., the nation's fourth largest industrial corporation.

The strike enters its fourth day with GE officials insisting their one-and-only contract offer will not be enlarged.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said Wednesday that three labor leaders had been delegated to build a multimillion-dollar war chest with contributions from unions around the country. They are I.W. Abel, president of the Steelworkers; Thomas W. Glendon, Longshoremen's president; and Joseph D. Keenan, secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the independent United Electrical Workers are leading the 13-union strike coalition, which represents 147,000 GE employees. The unions say 132,000 men are on strike; GE places the figure at 125,000.

Production was halted at an undetermined number of GE's 280 plants in 33 states. The largest plant, in Schenectady, N.Y., was closed after sporadic violence.

Engineers Join Strike Against GE

CINCINNATI (AP) — The International Union of Operating Engineers became the fourth union to strike at General Electric Thursday.

About 23 of the Engineers Local 20 joined picketers in front of the GE jet engine plant in suburban Evendale.

The United Automobile Workers and the International Association of Machinists are striking at Evendale. The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers is on strike at GE's Blue Ash electrical equipment plant.

Proclaim Nov. 2 As 'Vote 19 Day'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today proclaimed Sunday, Nov. 2, as "Vote 19 Day" in Ohio, recognizing the referendum vote next Tuesday on the question of lowering the voting age.

If the constitutional amendment issue passes, 19 and 20-year-olds will be able to vote in the 1970 elections. The governor urged voters to cast their ballots on the issue so that the decision will be "representative of the public will."

Chicago Trial Like 'Alice In Wonderland'

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The prosecutor says he feels like a character from "Alice in Wonderland." A defendant, bound and gagged, shouts muffled words at the jury. A federal judge is repeatedly called a "racist, fascist pig."

Two lawyers have been jailed temporarily. The defendants hold regular noon hour news conferences. A Viet Cong flag, a birthday cake for a defendant and a box of jelly beans have been spread over the defense table.

Fiction? No, it's the U.S. District Court trial of eight men charged with violating the anti-riot provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. Specifically, they are charged with conspiring to cross state lines with the intent to incite riots during last year's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

The bizarre proceedings that often occur in the large, wood-paneled courtroom on the 23rd floor of the U.S. courthouse frequently begin with a flamboyant entrance by the long-haired defendants.

They arrive in eccentric dress, whispering and giggling. They embrace Bobby G. Seale, the jailed Black Panther leader.

Wednesday, the spotlight was on Seale, the only defendant not free on bond. He is lodged in the Cook County jail each night on a fugitive warrant from New Haven, Conn., where he is charged with murder.

Since Oct. 22, Seale has sporadically interrupted the trial with demands that he be permitted to conduct his own defense.

His remarks often include calling Judge Julius J. Hoffman "a blatant racist, a racist pig and a racist, fascist pig."

Judge Hoffman, 74, a tiny, wrinkled man with steel-rimmed glasses and a reputation as a law scholar, has just as persistently threatened to have Seale bound and gagged.

It happened Wednesday. Seale was physically restrained by marshals twice during the morning session. When he interrupted the judge at the start of the afternoon session, Judge Hoffman ordered a marshal to take Seale into another room and "deal with him as he should be dealt with."

Minutes later, Seale, manacled to a metal folding chair and gagged with a white cloth that flapped over his shoulders like a scarf, was returned to the courtroom.

During arguments between defense lawyer William M. Kunstler and U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran, Seale shouted through his gag, "Sit down, Kunstler, you don't represent me!"

Judge Hoffman called a marshal aside and told him the gag wasn't working effectively. A brief recess was called and again Seale was returned to the courtroom in manacles, but this time layers of adhesive tape were added to the gag.

Judge Hoffman explained to the jury of 10 women and two men that the "steps were taken to insure a fair trial."

By the end of the session, Seale had worked the gag loose enough for his muffled demands to be heard. He also rattled the chains against the chair and Judge Hoffman hurriedly excused the jury.

The jury in this trial must be used to this by now.

Pickaway County Grangers Attend 97th Conference

Approximately 40 Grangers from Pickaway County were in attendance at the 97th annual session of the Ohio State Grange held this week at the Neil House in Columbus.

Returning with the grangers were many awards and laurels from help at the convention.

In the youth department, Betty Jo Bolender received third place in the Princess contest which included 59 entries. Keith Lands, who competed with 53 young men, received fourth place in the princess contest. They were presented to the convention Monday evening after the youth pageant which was given at the Central High School.

Also on Monday evening a group of ladies from the county were present to present a rose drill during the sixth degree of the order. This group came from five of the granges in this county.

Serving as pianist for the youth work, soloist for the sixth degree, and director of the rose drill was Paul Dunkle who also is the deputy of Pickaway County and helped in the deputy meetings at the convention.

In the contest division of the convention, Pickaway County Grangers also fared very well with many finalists in the judging. Dawn Bidwell, Junior

Disney Film Is Feature At Cliftona

'Adults Only' Films Scheduled For Saturday Midnights

Sean Connery, who in recent years has achieved immense popularity for his James Bond motion pictures, is the star of Walt Disney's live-action feature, "Darby O'Gill and The Little People," which opens Thursday at the Cliftona Theater.

The family feature also stars Janet Munro and tells a story of love, laughter and music in a beautiful Ireland setting.

The Disney film is another effort to develop family patronage at the local movie house. Previews of scheduled adult films are not shown during family entertainment features.

Paul Newman's first-run film "Butch Cassidy and The Sundance Kid" follows the Walt Disney film. Also scheduled in the coming weeks are such films as "Sweet Charity" and the Frank Sinatra film "The Detective."

Beginning Saturday at 11:30 p.m., the Cliftona will initiate an adults only program. Current art films and other features of an adult nature will be shown one-time only on Saturday evening following the regularly scheduled show.

THE recent resurfacing of Corwin St. has resulted in a flood of calls to the Service Department. It seems the contractor erred and laid too much gravel for the tar to absorb, creating a tremendous dust problem. Mayor Richard Gerhardt has explained that everything possible is being done to dispose of the excess gravel and cut down on dust, including daily sweepings by the Service Department.

TONIGHT is Halloween Eve when spooks will make an appearance in parades throughout the county commencing with the Circleville parade at 6:30 p.m. Ashville and Williamsport's ghosts and goblins will march at 7 p.m. and witchery begins in Tarlton at 7:30 p.m. Beggars will also be appearing in Circleville tonight in the annual "trick or treats" excursion.

Stoutsville Man Given Probation

A Stoutsville man being held over for the grand jury on charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny appeared in Common Pleas Court Wednesday on a bill of information, waiving his rights to a jury hearing.

Duane E. Drum entered a plea of guilty to both charges. He was placed on three years' probation by Judge William Ammer.

Chicago ...

During the introduction of the defendants to the jury, Thomas E. Hayden, 30, an architect of the Students For a Democratic Society, stood and shook a clenched fist at the jurors.

"Excuse the jury," Judge Hoffman shouted.

"That was only my usual greeting," Hayden said.

"There will be no fist shaking in this courtroom," Hoffman admonished.

Hoffman has rejected most of the defense motions, including requests for a one-day adjournment for the defendants to participate in Moratorium Day and permission to give Seale a birthday cake.

He also sustained just about every prosecution motion or objection, including one at the start of the trial which asked that four lawyers from New York and California be subpoenaed.

Two were arrested by U.S. marshals and ordered jailed without bond by Hoffman who held them in contempt for not giving him formal notice they did not intend to participate in the trial.

He was overruled by the U.S. Court of Appeals and later rescinded the order.

During Wednesday's session, Kunster delivered a lengthy summary of events which he said indicated the judge was intimidating the defense.

"I will hear no more of that invective, sir," Hoffman declared.

Foran stood to deliver the government's reply to Kunster.

"I feel like a character from 'Alice in Wonderland,'" he said.

"Never in twenty years of law practice have I seen anything like this ..."

Nixon Cornered By School Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's order of classroom desegregation "at once" raises an immediate problem for President Nixon: What to do about administration guidelines allowing some Deep South school districts until 1970 to eliminate dual systems.

The President can take one of two roads, as top government civil rights officials view the situation.

"He can either accept the decision as law and change the guidelines or keep playing games by appealing additional cases in hope the court will modify its decision," said one official.

In either case, officials agree, the high court has appeared to invalidate any government-approved plan that delays desegregation of a school district until next fall.

The Office for Civil Rights in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has already accepted 109 such plans. And it is now negotiating with 154 additional Deep South school districts for desegregation plans that would be effective next fall.

"It looks like all those 1970 plans are out now," said one government official. "It's a whole new ball game, apparently."

Nixon Proposes 'Bill Of Rights' For Consumer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon proposed today reorganization of the Federal Trade Commission and expansion of its powers as part of a program to benefit consumers.

Another proposal would establish a division of consumer protection in the Justice Department to support consumer interests in court and before government agencies.

In a special message to Congress, the President spelled out a "Buyer's Bill of Rights" which he said "will help provide greater personal freedom for individuals as well as better business for everyone engaged in trade."

The President's recommendations included revitalizing and expanding the Office of Consumer Affairs headed by Virginia Knauer, his special assistant in that field.

Other suggestions included: —A law that would permit private citizens to seek combined damage suits against firms convicted of violating federal law concerning fraudulent and deceptive practices.

—Government review of product testing and release of the results of government studies of consumer products.

The President said also he has ordered Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch "to initiate a full review of food additives."

"Recent findings concerning the effect of cyclamate sweeteners on rats underscore the importance of continued vigilance in this field," the President said.

TV 'Network' Plans Health Programs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati's medical center announced plans Thursday for a closed television network to provide medical and health information and program for related institutions in the community.

It will be the first such station in Ohio and one of a few in the nation, medical center officials said.

The Federal Communications Commission has granted a construction permit for a transmitter for the instructional television fixed station (ITFS).

The network will be able to transmit health related programs and information to area hospitals; health agencies; hospital administrations and offices of health professionals such as doctors, nurses, dentists, pharmacists and paramedical personnel.

Community hospitals and institutions can participate directly in the programming when their programs are video-taped and then transmitted on the network, according to Dr. Gunter Grupp, director of ITFS and of UC's department of biomedical communications. He is professor of experimental medicine and physiology.

The television station will broadcast on the 2500 megahertz band and cannot be received on home television sets. Interested participants will have to install specialized receiving equipment.

Raise Money

Meany visited the White House Wednesday and said he was cheered by President Nixon's decision against federal intervention in the strike.

"I think that's a good resolution on his part," Meany said.

Meanwhile, GE announced it would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York that it was guilty of unfair labor practices in 1960 contract bargaining with the union.

The court ruled that GE's technique of offering one package and refusing to increase it inhibited bargaining.

GE Vice President Philip D. Moore said he didn't think the decision was relevant to the current strike, "General Electric," he said, "is repeatedly on record this year with our unions as being willing to modify, rearrange or otherwise change, as facts warrant."

But Paul Jennings, president of the IUE, said, "The company's conduct of its 1969 negotiations not only falls within the court indictment, but is far more serious and unlawful than the methods condemned by the court."

Fletcher Sent To Ohio Pen

Keith Donald Fletcher, found guilty last week by a jury for breaking and entering and grand larceny, appeared before Judge William Ammer Wednesday for sentencing.

Judge Ammer overruled a motion for a new trial and sentenced the Columbus man to 1-15 and 1-7 years in the Ohio Penitentiary, both terms to run concurrently. Fletcher's attorney, Richard Gerhardt, indicated he would appeal the decision.

Ruling Stuns

The decision requires the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans to order Mississippi school districts to "begin immediately to operate as unitary school systems within which no person is to be effectively excluded from any school because of race or color."

The appeals court is to use as a vehicle desegregation plans that would have taken effect Sept. 1 had not the administration counseled delay until Dec. 1.

"Modifications" may be made, the Supreme Court said, so long as they "insure a totally unitary school system for all eligible pupils without regard to race or color."

The school officials are free to lodge whatever objections they may have, the high court said, but these are to be considered by federal judges in Mississippi after—and not before—the plans are put into effect.

The decision contained a stinging rebuke to the court in New Orleans for accepting the administration's advice last August and postponing further desegregation.

"The court of appeals," the high court said, "should have denied all motions for additional time because continued operation of segregated schools under a standard of allowing 'all deliberate speed' for desegregation is no longer constitutionally permissible."

The decision cited 1964 and 1968 rulings that called for immediate desegregation of Virginia schools.

The concept of "all deliberate speed" was set forth by the Supreme Court in 1955. Recognizing that school officials faced massive administrative difficulties in abandoning racially separate schools, the court said they should act, nonetheless, with "all deliberate speed."

Following the ruling, the Justice Department maintained a cautious stance, saying the government's future course depended on what the New Orleans appeals court did to implement the ruling.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said "the decision spells disaster for public education in Mississippi and many parts of the South."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said the court "has allowed ideological passion to overcome reason in this tragic ruling."

John C. Satterfield of Yazoo City, the former American Bar Association president who argued the case for Mississippi, said if Health, Education and Welfare plans, as submitted, are put into effect immediately that could destroy many of the school systems.

Chicago . . . Nixon Cornered By School Ruling

"That was only my usual greeting," Hayden said.

"There will be no fist shaking in this courtroom," Hoffman admonished.

Hoffman has rejected most of the defense motions, including requests for a one-day adjournment for the defendants to participate in Moratorium Day and permission to give Seale a birthday cake.

He also sustained just about every prosecution motion or objection, including one at the start of the trial which asked that four lawyers from New York and California be subpoenaed.

Two were arrested by U.S. marshals and ordered jailed without bond by Hoffman who held them in contempt for not giving him formal notice they did not intend to participate in the trial.

He was overruled by the U.S. Court of Appeals and later rescinded the order.

During Wednesday's session, Kunster delivered a lengthy summary of events which he said indicated the judge was intimidating the defense.

"I will hear no more of that invective, sir," Hoffman declared.

Foran stood to deliver the government's reply to Kunster.

"I feel like a character from 'Alice in Wonderland,' he said. 'Never in twenty years of law practice have I seen anything like this . . .'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's order of classroom desegregation "at once" raises an immediate problem for President Nixon: What to do about administration guidelines allowing some Deep South school districts until 1970 to eliminate dual systems.

The President can take one of two roads, as top government civil rights officials view the situation.

"He can either accept the decision as law and change the guidelines or keep playing games by appealing additional cases in hope the court will modify its decision," said one official.

In either case, officials agree, the high court has appeared to invalidate any government-approved plan that delays desegregation of a school district until next fall.

The Office for Civil Rights in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has already accepted 109 such plans. And it is now negotiating with 154 additional Deep South school districts for desegregation plans that would be effective next fall.

"It looks like all those 1970 plans are out now," said one government official. "It's a whole new ball game, apparently."

ly, with all plans having to be immediate ones."

The government has two means of forcing desegregation on recalcitrant southern districts.

One is through court orders based on previous Supreme Court decision outlawing dual systems. The other is by cutting off federal aid to districts which do not provide acceptable plans for complying with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Nixon administration's July 3 guidelines gave southern districts with "bona fide" education problems, a chance to delay desegregation until next fall.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon proposed today reorganization of the Federal Trade Commission and expansion of its powers as part of a program to benefit consumers.

Another proposal would establish a division of consumer protection in the Justice Department to support consumer interests in court and before government agencies.

In a special message to Congress, the President spelled out a "Buyer's Bill of Rights" which he said "will help provide greater personal freedom for individuals as well as better business for everyone engaged in trade."

The President's recommendations included revitalizing and expanding the Office of Consumer Affairs headed by Virginia Knauber, his special assistant in that field.

Other suggestions included: —A law that would permit private citizens to seek combined damage suits against firms convicted of violating federal law concerning fraudulent and deceptive practices.

—Government review of product testing and release of the results of government studies of consumer products.

The President said also he has ordered Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch "to initiate a full review of food additives."

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A remarkable feat was accomplished last year by the nation's auto wreckers. For the first time in memory they disposed of more vehicles than were abandoned, a score of something like 9 million to 7.5 million units.

Dismantling, ripping, grinding, hacking, compacting, balancing, burning and burying, some 15,600 companies employing 98,500 workers reduced the nation's incredible backlog of automotive junk to less than 30 million units.

If you think this is no major feat, consider what the odds must be in the junkyard battle:

Adding to the pile each year is the production of the world's largest, most automated and sometimes wealthiest companies. The big car companies have been turning out hundreds of thousands of vehicles for decades. In this year alone their production will exceed nine million units.

Trying to keep pace is a disposal industry made up of many small companies without production lines—17 per cent are one-man operations—often using primitive methods, poorly financed and often poorly managed, scrambling to "outproduce" Detroit.

Gradually, however, the odds might be changing for a preliminary draft of a study just completed by the Commerce Department shows that, surprisingly, the efforts of these small companies add up to a huge industry indeed.

Shipments by auto wreckers in 1967 totaled $5.3 billion, for example, a figure equal to shipments of aircraft engines and parts, and which exceeds by far the dollar value of radio and television receiver shipments.

Technology also is helping the industry become more efficient and productive and some companies, in fact, have installed production lines to dismantle vehicles for their individual parts or for sale as junk.

The study recommends, among other things, that:

—The federal government consider a program of loans, technical research and grants to assist industry and local governments to build scrap shredders, balers and incinerators for processing automotive scrap.

—The federal government should study the technical, economic and national defense benefits which might result from stockpiling of motor vehicle scrap.

—States should enact legislation to protect auto wreckers from legal action or harassment resulting from picking up or accepting motor vehicles presumed to be abandoned or disposed of by owners.

A person who has been forced to abandon his vehicle for next to nothing might receive a surprise to learn from the report that the average revenue obtained from a dismantled vehicle is about $587.

It is not unusual, the report states, for dealers to pay $500 to $1,000 for a late model junked vehicle with many salable parts, although the average price of all cars purchased for dismantling appears to be about $334.

Most of the wrecker's income is earned from selling parts rather than from selling the scrap metal, and facilities also are lacking for reducing the scrap to salable bales or shreds.

Try and Stop Me

A CRACK REPORTER was assigned years ago to cover the last days of railroad magnate W. H. Harriman in Arden, New York. After the millionaire had passed away, the reporter turned in his expense account. It was a whopper. The managing editor studied it grimly, then commented, "If this is Mr. Harriman's will, it's worth a story on its own."

A young couple bent on securing a divorce was so attracted that the soft-hearted judge was trying desperately to reconcile them. "What can you possibly have against this lovely wife of yours?" queried the judge. "She's the world's worst housekeeper," grumbled the husband. "Every night when I come home I find crumbs all over the couch." "A distressing habit, to be sure," conceded the judge, "but hardly cause for divorce." Then, turning to the wife, he asked, "And what is your complaint?"

"He's unbelievably uncouth," she cried. "I resent his referring to my male friends as crumbs."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A television and screen personality recently had plastic surgery performed on her face and eyes. She sought my advice about it and I encouraged her wholeheartedly, both for her own vanity and because she was in a profession that demanded an especially attractive image.

The results were spectacular and the effect was most gratifying to her and her family. Rarely have I ever encountered a person in any field of endeavor who has handled this operation in such an adult and mature manner. On and off the air, she freely spoke about the operation, explaining why she wanted it done and making no effort to conceal the fact that it was done.

There is no shame in adding loveliness to oneself by teeth-capping, cosmetics, hairdo or any of the other socially acceptable ways to be more attractive. I feel, as she does, that any reasonable and safe way to enhance one's appearance, whether the need be professional or social, should be considered without self-consciousness.

Many young people go through life feeling handicapped by a misshapen nose, scars on the face or ear deformities, yet they are afraid to make known how important the correction would be to them.

Perhaps they and others can learn from the experience of this intelligent screen personality that great gratification can come from plastic surgery when it is definitely needed.

A very interesting sidelight of her operation was brought to my attention. She had never before been in a hospital and felt that she would have benefited if she had known exactly what to expect. Many of the procedures confused and even terrified her, not because they were painful, but rather because they came as a complete surprise and were totally unexpected.

As many of you know, I have for years been identified with the psychological preparation of children for surgery. It is my firm belief that the greatest contribution to a child's hospital experience lies in telling him the truth about everything that will happen at the hospital. A lie by his parents or his doctor can leave an indelible scar on his sensitive psyche and may be responsible for future neurotic behavior patterns as an adolescent and adult. Medical and psychological literature is filled with verification of this fact.

Often the feeling of abandonment that a child feels when his parents fail to stay overnight in the hospital with him may interrupt his faith and confidence in his parents. In many instances, the real value of the surgery can be negated by this harmful hurt.

Now how does this fit in with the plastic surgery of our adult actress? She was unprepared for the nature of the anesthesia, and her reaction in the recovery room and was especially concerned because fluid was being admitted by vein. I am convinced that adults need as much assurance and preparation for surgery as do children. Fear must be alleviated in everyone.

Elimination of breakfast is a mistake, even for those on strict diets.

A Complicated Dawdle

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The foreign policy of the United States is supposed to be run by the President, with the advice of the Senate. But when the head of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee chooses to stay mum and immobile when the White House needs some sort of statement of intention about our ambassadorial representation abroad, the word "advice" hardly covers it.

The motives of Senator J. William Fulbright, the Foreign Relations Committee chairman, are usually transparent. Everyone knows where he stands on Vietnam. But why should he have dawdled so in scheduling hearings on a couple of President's Nixon's ambassadorial choices? It was on August 5 that Nixon named Professor Robert Strauss — Hupe, who has been director of the Foreign Policy Research Institute at the University of Pennsylvania as his choice for ambassador to Morocco. Strauss — Hupe has not seen eye-to-eye with Fulbright on the subject of Soviet intentions and capabilities; indeed, he has been one of those who has predicted "protracted conflict" with the Communists. But Morocco hardly comes within the field of Cold War fire. If Fulbright could accept without reservations the controversial Bill Buckley when Nixon chose the doughty conservative and anti-Communist editor of National Review to serve as a White House adviser on communications, it would be equivalent to straining at a gnat to block the assignment of Professor Strauss — Hupe to a post that demands little more than ordinary diplomatic affability. This is said without prejudice to Strauss — Hupe, who would do a good job for his country in almost any capacity.

There may be more to the Fulbright dawdle than simple desire to be grudging about a professor who has been skeptical of the quality of Soviet loving-kindness. Nixon's choice to fill the empty U. S. ambassadorial post to Greece happens to be a career diplomat named Harry Tasca, who is currently our Ambassador to Morocco. As long as there is no motion on the subject of Strauss — Hupe, Tasca will remain immobilized in Morocco, and nobody will go to Athens.

This is positively dangerous, for the Athens Embassy is far more important to U.S. foreign policy than Morocco. Our more sober students of Greek affairs think the time has come for a constructive solution of the problem posed by international worry over the continuation of the Athens military dictatorship. In Paris the former Prime Minister of Greece, Constantine Karamanlis, has hinted that the military government of George Papadopoulos is ready to make a move looking toward restoration of parliamentary rule. Presumably the present government in Athens could look forward to winning a five-year mandate under constitutional guarantee if it were to return to democracy. This should satisfy everybody but the Communists. It could even please Bill Fulbright.

The danger is that if the Senate Foreign Relations Committee becomes embroiled over the acceptance of Strauss — Hupe as Ambassador to Morocco the tensions might spill over into the questioning of Tasca's fitness for the Athens post. It is no secret that our State Department and our Department of Defense have had different opinions about Greek policy. If Tasca is asked to make possibly embarrassing statements in reply to questions about U.S. — Greek affairs, or about the Communists in the Mediterranean and the Middle East, it could cut the ground from under him when, as seems likely, he does go to Athens. He is needed in Greece as a reconciler, not as a figure of dispute.

Nixon is having a hard enough time formulating foreign policy under the threat of an attempted vote by the November 15 demonstrators. If Fulbright is willing to say that Nixon is sincere about trying to wind up the Vietnamese War, he might show the same sort of magnanimity in conceding that the President will not be pushing the Cold War in Morocco or conniving to perpetuate tyranny in the shadow of the Acropolis.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor:

We, the Circleville City Board of Education unanimously agree that a report to the citizens of the school district by every possible method is imperative as it relates to the critical need for passage of the 6.3 mill operating levy and we are utilizing this letter as another attempt to reach as many citizens as possible.

An additional levy of 6.3 mills will appear on the November 4, 1969 ballot. The levy must pass in the calendar year 1969 for funds to be available in 1970 when they will be greatly needed. Approval will provide needed funds for a continuing educational program.

The levy was reduced from 6.7 mills requested in May to 6.3 mills presently requested because of a slight increase in state funds under recently passed legislation. The reduction will still provide a sound financial basis for the operation of the schools. The Board continues to make every effort to keep the requested increase to a minimum and will utilize the small increase in state funds to make up for the reduction of the four-tenths of a mill previously requested.

It should be realized that the Circleville City School District residents have actually realized two recent tax reductions. Last year 1.6 mills was dropped and this year taxes were reduced .7 mill due to bond retirement reduction. This represents a decrease of 2.3 mills in two years. The actual increase requested is only 4 mills over the tax rate of two years ago.

These funds are absolutely necessary for the assurance of an educational program through 1970-71. It is our duty to inform the citizens of the possibility of exhausting funds during the calendar year 1970 which could necessitate the closing of school.

A crisis can be avoided if this minimum effort is approved in time to receive additional funds during 1970. Loss of the levy in 1969 will require a higher request in 1970 to make up for funds not received in 1970.

The citizens of the Circleville City Schools have met the necessary obligations previously and we believe will do so now. We solicit everyone's effort to insure passage. Do not place the future education of Circleville's children in jeopardy because of complacency or negative thinking. Delay is much more costly than facing the responsibility now.

R. L. BREHMER JR., President

RICHARD BOWERS, Vice President

DALE F. DeLONG, THOMAS R. ELSEA, ROSEMARY MADER

On Tuesday, the adults of Circleville will vote on an issue which will be very important to the children of this community.

As co-chairman of the committee for Circleville's children, I have looked over the financial condition of the Circleville school system and agree with our elected school board members that the school operating budget can be cut no further. The cost of educating one pupil in Circleville has risen 36 per cent since 1962 but by careful money management on the part of school officials our tax rate for schools has increased only 17 per cent. The average school district in Ohio has found it necessary to increase their tax rate 38 per cent.

We have now arrived at a crucial time in the operation of our school system. In order to meet State of Ohio minimum school requirements and remain competitive for satisfactory teachers, additional funds must be obtained. In order for the money to be available when needed in the fall of 1970, it must be voted in 1969.

Can we afford to gamble with the education of our children? I firmly believe as most responsible citizens in this community, that we cannot. I urge you to vote for the education of Circleville's children.

Air Pollution Battle Studied By State Chiefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's battle against air pollution is utilizing two basically different technical survey methods to speed up the program.

These were described to Gov. James A. Rhodes Wednesday by Dr. E. W. Arnold, state health director and chairman of the Ohio Air Pollution Control Board and Jack Wunderle, the health department's chief air pollution engineer.

One of the methods, in use in the Cincinnati region, is a massive air sampling program. The area includes Butler, Clermont, Hamilton and Warren Counties.

Samples are being taken from 49 sites where dustfall is being checked. 49 where sulfation rates are being analyzed, 27 sites where suspended particulate matter is being counted, five where sulfur dioxide concentrations are being measured, and three where wind velocity and direction are being recorded.

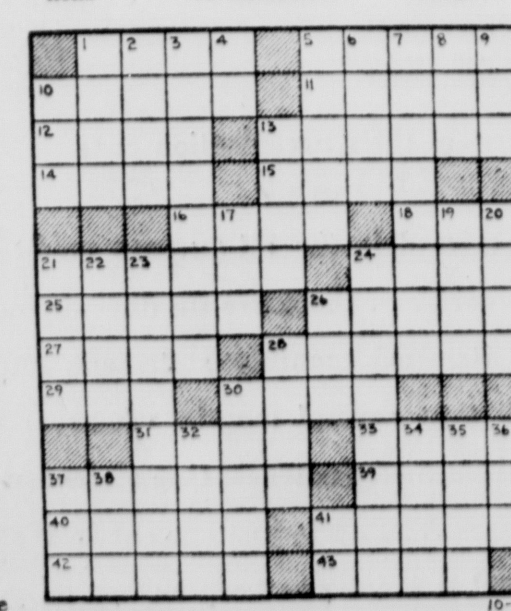

The other survey method is being used in the Cleveland area. It involves creation of a computerized model of the area, based on a combination of information already available on air quality conditions from municipalities and industries, plus a program of verification by spot checking.

The Cleveland regional program involves eight counties, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Medina, Portage, Stark and Summit. Local air pollution units in Cleveland, Lorain, Canton, Akron-Barberton and Lake County are cooperating.

The study recommends, among other things, that: —The federal government consider a program of loans, technical research and grants to assist industry and local governments to build scrap shredders, balers and incinerators for processing automotive scrap.

—The federal government should study the technical, economic and national defense benefits which might result from stockpiling of motor vehicle scrap.

—States should enact legislation to protect auto wreckers from legal action or harassment resulting from picking up or accepting motor vehicles presumed to be abandoned or disposed of by owners.

A person who has been forced to abandon his vehicle for next to nothing might receive a surprise to learn from the report that the average revenue obtained from a dismantled vehicle is about $587.

It is not unusual, the report states, for dealers to pay $500 to $1,000 for a late model junked vehicle with many salable parts, although the average price of all cars purchased for dismantling appears to be about $334.

Most of the wrecker's income is earned from selling parts rather than from selling the scrap metal, and facilities also are lacking for reducing the scrap to salable bales or shreds.

A CRACK REPORTER was assigned years ago to cover the last days of railroad magnate W. H. Harriman in Arden, N.Y. After the millionaire had passed away, the reporter turned in his expense account. It was a whooper. The managing editor studied it grimly, then commented, "If this is Mr. Harriman's will, it's worth a story on its own."

A young couple bent on securing a divorce was so attracted that the soft-hearted judge was trying desperately to reconcile them. "What can you possibly have against this lovely wife of yours?" queried the judge. "She's the world's worst housekeeper," grumbled the husband. "Every night when I come home I find crumbs all over the couch." "A distressing habit, to be sure," conceded the judge, "but hardly cause for divorce." Then, turning to the wife, he asked, "And what is your complaint?" "He's unbelievably uncouth," she cried. "I resent his referring to my male friends as crumbs."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A television and screen personality recently had plastic surgery performed on her face and eyes. She sought my advice about this and I encouraged her wholeheartedly, both for her own vanity and because she was in a profession that demanded an especially attractive image.

The results were spectacular and the effect was most gratifying to her and her family. Rarely have I ever encountered a person in any field of endeavor who has handled this operation in such an adult and mature manner. On and off the air, she freely spoke about the operation, explaining why she wanted it done and making no effort to conceal the fact that it was done.

There is no shame in adding loveliness to oneself by teeth, capping, cosmetics, hairdo or any of the other socially acceptable ways to be more attractive. I feel, as she does, that any reasonable and safe way to enhance one's appearance, whether the need be professional or social, should be considered without self-consciousness.

Many young people go through life feeling handicapped by a misshapen nose, scars on the face or ear deformities, yet they are afraid to make known how important the correction would be to them.

Perhaps they and others can learn from the experience of this intelligent screen personality that great gratification can come from plastic surgery when it is definitely needed.

A very interesting sidelight of her operation was brought to my attention. She had never before been in a hospital and felt that she would have benefited if she had known exactly what to expect. Many of the procedures confused and even terrified her, not because they were painful, but rather because they came as a complete surprise and were totally unexpected.

As many of you know, I have for years been identified with the psychological preparation of children for surgery. It is my firm belief that the greatest contribution to a child's hospital experience lies in telling him the truth about everything that will happen at the hospital. A lie by his parents or his doctor can leave an indelible scar on his sensitive psyche and may be responsible for future neurotic behavior patterns as an adolescent and adult. Medical and psychological literature is filled with

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The foreign policy of the United States is supposed to be run by the President, with the advice of the Senate. But when the head of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee chooses to stay mum and immobile when the White House needs some sort of statement of intention about our ambassadorial representation abroad, the word "advice" hardly covers it.

The motives of Senator J. William Fulbright, the Foreign Relations Committee chairman, are usually transparent. Everyone knows where he stands on Vietnam. But why should he have dawdled so in scheduling hearings on a couple of President's Nixon's ambassadorial choices? It was on August 5 that Nixon named Professor Robert Strauss - Hupe, who has been director of the Foreign Policy Research Institute at the University of Pennsylvania as his choice for ambassador to Morocco. Strauss - Hupe has not seen eye-to-eye with Fulbright on the subject of Soviet intentions and capabilities; indeed, he has been one of those who has been predicted "protracted conflict" with the Communists. But Morocco hardly comes within the field of Cold War fire. If Fulbright could accept without reservations the controversial Bill Buckley when Nixon chose the doughty conservative and anti-Communist editor of National Review to serve as a White House adviser on communications, it would be equivalent to straining at a gnat to block the assignment of Professor Strauss - Hupe to a post that demands little more than ordinary diplomatic affability. This is said without prejudice to Strauss - Hupe, who would do a good job for his country in almost any capacity.

There may be more to the Fulbright dawdle than simple desire to be grudging about a professor who has been skeptical of the quality of Soviet loving-kindness. Nixon's choice to fill the empty U. S. ambassadorial post to Greece happens to be a career diplomat named Harry Tasca, who is currently our Ambassador to Morocco. As long as there is no motion on the subject of Strauss - Hupe, Tasca will remain immobilized in Morocco, and nobody will go to Athens.

This is positively dangerous, for the Athens Embassy is far more important to U.S. foreign policy than Morocco. Our more sober students of Greek affairs think the time has come for a constructive solution of the problem posed by international worry over the continuation of the Athens military dictatorship. In Paris the former Prime Minister of Greece, Constantine Karamanlis, has hinted that the military government of George Papadopoulos is ready to make a move looking toward restoration of parliamentary rule. Presumably the present government in Athens could look forward to winning a five-year mandate under constitutional guarantee if it were to return to democracy. This should satisfy everybody but the Communists. It could even please Bill Fulbright.

The danger is that if the Senate Foreign Relations Committee becomes embroiled over the acceptance of Strauss - Hupe as Ambassador to Morocco the tensions might spill over into the questioning of Tasca's fitness for the Athens post. It is no secret that our State Department and our Department of Defense have had different opinions about Greek policy. If Tasca is asked to make possibly embarrassing statements in reply to questions about U.S. - Greek affairs, or about the Communists in the Mediterranean and the Middle East, it could cut the ground from under him when, as seems likely, he does go to Athens. He is needed in Greece as a reconciler, not as a figure of dispute.

Nixon is having a hard enough time formulating foreign policy under the threat of an attempted vote by the November 15 demonstrators. If Fulbright is willing to say that Nixon is sincere about trying to wind up the Vietnamese War, he might show the same sort of magnanimity in conceding that the President will not be pushing the Cold War in Morocco or conniving to perpetuate tyranny in the shadow of the Acropolis.

Dear Editor:

We, the Circleville City Board of Education unanimously agree that a report to the citizens of the school district by every possible means is imperative as it relates to the critical need for passage of the 6.3 mill operating levy and we are utilizing this letter as another attempt to reach as many citizens as possible.

RICHARD BOWERS,
Vice President
DALE F. DeLONG,
THOMAS R. ELSEA,
ROSEMARY MADER

An additional levy of 6.3 mills will appear on the November 4, 1969 ballot. The levy must pass in the calendar year 1969 for funds to be available in 1970 when they will be greatly needed. Approval will provide needed funds for a continuing educational program.

The levy was reduced from 6.7 mills requested in May to 6.3 mills presently requested because of a slight increase in state funds under recently passed legislation. The reduction will still provide a sound financial basis for the operation of the schools. The Board continues to make every effort to keep the requested increase to a minimum and will utilize the small increase in state funds to make up for the reduction of the four-tenths of a mill previously requested.

It should be realized that the Circleville City School District residents have actually realized two recent tax reductions. Last year 1.6 mills was dropped and this year taxes were reduced .7 mill due to bond retirement reduction. This represents a decrease of 2.3 mills in two years. The actual increase requested is only 4 mills over the tax rate of two years ago.

These funds are absolutely necessary for the assurance of an educational program through 1970-71. It is our duty to inform the citizens of the possibility of exhausting funds during the calendar year 1970 which could necessitate the closing of school.

WILLIAM D. BILLS,
290 Edwards Road

On Tuesday, the adults of Circleville will vote on an issue which will be very important to the children of this community.

As co-chairman of the committee for Circleville's children, I have looked over the financial condition of the Circleville school system and agree with our elected school board members that the school operating budget can be cut no further. The cost of educating one pupil in Circleville has risen 36 per cent since 1962 but by careful money management on the part of school officials our tax rate for schools has increased only 17 per cent. The average school district in Ohio has found it necessary to increase their tax rate 38 per cent.

We have now arrived at a crucial time in the operation of our school system. In order to meet State of Ohio minimum school requirements and remain competitive for satisfactory teachers, additional funds must be obtained. In order for the money to be available when needed in the fall of 1970, it must be voted in 1969.

Can we afford to gamble with the education of our children? I firmly believe as most responsible citizens in this community, that we cannot. I urge you to vote for the education of Circleville children.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: The wearing of boots is popular today with both young men and young women, and probably this reflects a feeling of frustration about our present society common to both sexes. They seek peace of mind, but the boots symbolize their unconscious, aggressive desire to stomp on whatever is bothering them and crush it.

Everything costs twice as much or more than it used to, but the inflationary spiral won't really reach its peak until men start tipping hawkeye girls four bits instead of a quarter.

Many people now are turning to painting as a way to express themselves. This is a fine idea, but the trouble with encouraging them by praising one of their paintings is that they are likely to press it on you as a gift. This means that, whenever they visit you, it is necessary for you to run down to the basement or scurry up to the attic to find where you hid it, then dust it off, and hang it on the living room wall until they leave. That is simply too much to ask in the name of art.

Air Pollution Battle Studied By State Chiefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's battle against air pollution is utilizing two basically different technical survey methods to speed up the program.

These were described to Gov. James A. Rhodes Wednesday by Dr. E. W. Arnold, state health director and chairman of the Ohio Air Pollution Control Board and Jack Wunderlich, the health department's chief air pollution engineer.

One of the methods, in use in the Cincinnati region, is a massive air sampling program. The area includes Butler, Clermont, Hamilton and Warren Counties.

Samples are being taken from 49 sites where dustfall is being checked. 49 where sulfation rates are being analyzed, 27 sites where suspended particulate matter is being counted, five where sulfur dioxide concentrations are being measured, and three where wind velocity and direction are being recorded.

The other survey method is being used in the Cleveland area. It involves creation of a computerized model of the area, based on a combination of information already available on air quality conditions from municipalities and industries, plus a program of verification by spot checking.

The Cleveland regional program involves eight counties: Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Medina, Portage, Stark and Summit. Local air pollution units in Cleveland, Lorain, Canton, Akron-Barberton and Lake County are cooperating.

System Speeds Processing BankAmericard Transactions

A new on-line, split screen data display system has reduced from two or three minutes to 20 seconds the time it takes to authorize BankAmericard credit card sales transactions.

The Circleville Savings Bank and the Third National Bank are a part of the Ohio BankAmericard system, which in terms of volume is the second largest credit card program in the 46 state BankAmericard system.

The Ohio BankAmericard program is expected to represent 10 per cent of the $1 billion dollars in billing which is projected nationally for BankAmericard in 1969. The new authorization system will provide even greater control, accuracy and currentness.

The new electronic authorization system consists of six on-line split screen data display devices connected directly to the computer. The devices are similar to the video display units used by the three television networks in their election night coverage last November.

Ohio BankAmericard's new authorization system was designed for the Savings and Third National and the 228 other banks in the credit card program by The National Cash Register Company.

Each of the display devices are connected to two input keyboards. The keyboards operate independently and simultaneously. This means that the display unit's TV-like screen is divided in half to provide double the capacity and to enable two operators to simultaneously communicate with the computer.

The display systems are used by the Savings and Third National Banks to obtain sales authorizations, credit referrals, credit and collection information.

The system provides an instantaneous electronic account report, including information on the customer's credit limit, available balance, current balance, past due and delinquent status, past history regarding high, low, and average balances, service charges and date of last transaction.

The Ohio BankAmericard was the first bank credit card operation in the country to install this new system. It plans to install more units and to sophisticate the operation even more during the coming year.

Versatility Is Big Advantage

It is amazing what can be done with a BankAmericard.

For example, a "no questions asked" cash advance can be obtained at any of thousands of banks that honor BankAmericard around the world.

To get a BankAmericard cash advance, simply present the card to a teller at any BankAmericard Bank and receive cash up to the limit of the card.

BankAmericard Makes Debut In Michigan

BankAmericard, the world's largest credit card, will soon make its debut in the state of Michigan, through one of the oldest credit card exponents in the nation.

Security Bank & Trust Co., with 20 branches in metropolitan Detroit, will convert its 15-year-old credit card to BankAmericard in early 1970.

It will be the first bank in Michigan to offer residents the all-purpose credit card. Security Bank has had a credit card operation, the Security Charge Card, since 1953. It currently has 400,000 cardholders in five Michigan counties.

Lowell Peacock, Security president, said his bank decided to join BankAmericard because of two distinct advantages. "Our customers will be able to use BankAmericard in most of the United States, and Michigan merchants will benefit from out-of-state BankAmericard holders visiting this area," Peacock said.

Security Bank's entrance into the program extends

BankAmericard Sweeping World

Italians will soon have an opportunity to join the BankAmericard "credit card revolution" which began three years ago in North America, and is now sweeping around the world.

The debut of bank credit cards will come to Italy in October, with the issuance of BankAmericards in Milan by Banca d'America e d'Italia, one of the nation's largest banks. It will be the first time a bank all-purpose credit card has been made available in Italy.

The new Italian card will be nearly identical to its American counterpart, using the same name and same blue, white and gold format as BankAmericard. It will be fully interchangeable with the American card, as well as with Canada's Charge, Britain's Barclaycard, Mexico's Bancomer, and Japan's Sumitomo card.

The Italian announcement

BankAmericard coverage to 45 states. It is also honored by merchants in 38 foreign areas. More than 23 million cardholders are in the BankAmericard program, and over 550,000 business outlets honor it across the globe.

followed the signing of an agreement through BankAmerica Service Corporation, San Francisco, which coordinates participation in the international credit card program for banks throughout the world.

In addition to giving many Italians their first opportunity to use credit cards the agreement with Banca d'Italia will now give cardholders from Central Ohio and across the United States the ability to use their BankAmericards when visiting Italy on vacation or business.

The BankAmericard international program is the world's largest, with over 23,000,000 cardholders, 550,000 merchant outlets, and acceptance in 45 American states and 38 foreign areas.

MARRIED 75 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strait read congratulatory messages in Williamsport, Pa., as they look back on 75 years of married life. He is 95 and she is 94.

Card Holder Is Protected

If a BankAmericard is lost or stolen, it should be reported immediately to the bank issuing it.

BankAmericard is a strong, efficient program for customers and businesses alike. The holder of a card is not obligated for unauthorized purchases made when a card is lost or stolen.

FCC Gives Approval To Station Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Purchase of WDBJ-TV in Roanoke, Va., by WHBC, Inc., of Canton, Ohio, for $775,000 was approved Wednesday by the Federal Communications Commission.

The transaction was part of a $9 million deal in which Times-World Corp., disposed of its three broadcast properties in Roanoke to separate organizations.

Higher Limits Set

Most BankAmericards in the initial issue had limits of $500. Many have been increased, most due to customer requests.

Homing pigeons served with distinction in World War II, G.I. Joe, an American bird, delivered a timely dispatch that saved 1,000 British troops from bombardment. He received the Dickin Medal — the pigeon's equivalent of a Victoria Cross — in a Tower of London ceremony after the war.

BankAmericard To Be In 50 States Soon

BankAmericard, in 45 states now, will be established in every state in the union by the end of this year.

The card is being accepted in a growing number of foreign countries through interchange arrangements with bank credit cards from those countries.

CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED YOUR SUPPORT

WE CANNOT SETTLE FOR A "BELOW AVERAGE EFFORT" IN THE EDUCATION OF OUR CHILDREN!

You'll vote FOR better schools if you completely understand the reasons for the school levy. Perhaps the answers to these frequently asked questions will help you make the right decision!

Q. WHAT IS THE SCHOOL LEVY PROPOSAL?

A. It is proposed that a levy of an additional 6.3 mills for school operating expenses be voted on November 4, 1969.

Q. HOW WILL THIS ADDITIONAL INCOME BE USED TO IMPROVE OUR SCHOOLS?

A. There are many needs, but here are five of the most important uses for the increased revenue:

To enable our schools to meet minimum standards for school programs as required by the State Department of Education.

To carry out a program of building repair and maintenance before expensive deterioration occurs to our school buildings.

To meet the increasing costs of supplies, materials and services that are essential in our school system.

To enable our schools to attract and hold good teachers.

To meet the cost of increasing enrollment.

Q. HOW DO PRESENT SCHOOL COSTS IN CIRCLEVILLE COMPARE WITH SCHOOL COSTS IN OTHER OHIO COMMUNITIES?

A. Last year the educational cost per child in Circleville was 30% less than the Ohio city average.

Q. HOW MUCH HAS THE SCHOOL TAX RATE INCREASED IN CIRCLEVILLE IN RECENT YEARS?

A. Circleville school taxes have only increased 2.9 mills since 1962. This compares with an average of over 9 mills in other cities during this same period.

Q. HOW DOES THE SCHOOL TAX RATE IN CIRCLEVILLE COMPARE WITH OTHER OHIO SCHOOL DISTRICTS?

A. Among the 166 city school districts in Ohio, 154 have a higher school tax rate than Circleville. We cannot hope to continue to operate good schools for our children with a tax rate that is 25% below our neighboring communities.

Q. HOW MUCH MORE WILL THE 6.3 MILL LEVY COST?

A. Providing a better education for Circleville Children will amount to an additional cost of $2.70 for each one thousand dollars of market or sale value of property. For the average $12,000 homeowner this amounts to 61c per week or only about 8½c per day.

Q. DO THE SCHOOLS RECEIVE ANY MONEY FROM THE CITY INCOME TAX?

A. No. By state law, the only source of tax revenue available to a school district is through real and personal property tax.

MARRIED 75 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strait read congratulatory messages in Williamsport, Pa., as they look back on 75 years of married life. He is 95 and she is 94.

Card Holder Is Protected

If a BankAmericard is lost or stolen, it should be reported immediately to the bank issuing it.

BankAmericard is a strong, efficient program for customers and businesses alike. The holder of a card is not obligated for unauthorized purchases made when a card is lost or stolen.

FCC Gives Approval To Station Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Purchase of WDBJ-AM in Roanoke, Va., by WHBC, Inc., of Canton, Ohio, for $775,000 was approved Wednesday by the Federal Communications Commission.

The transaction was part of a $9 million deal in which Times-World Corp., disposed of its three broadcast properties in Roanoke to separate organizations.

Higher Limits Set

Most BankAmericards in the initial issue had limits of $500. Many have been increased, most due to customer requests.

Homing pigeons served with distinction in World War II. G.I. Joe, an American bird, delivered a timely dispatch that saved 1,000 British troops from bombardment. He received the Dickin Medal — the pigeon's equivalent of a Victoria Cross — in a Tower of London ceremony after the war.

BankAmericard To Be In 50 States Soon

BankAmericard, in 45 states now, will be established in every state in the union by the end of this year.

The card is being accepted in a growing number of foreign countries through interchange arrangements with bank credit cards from those countries.

CIRCLEVILLE SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED YOUR SUPPORT

WE CANNOT SETTLE FOR A "BELOW AVERAGE EFFORT" IN THE EDUCATION OF OUR CHILDREN!

You'll vote FOR better schools if you completely understand the reasons for the school levy. Perhaps the answers to these frequently asked questions will help you make the right decision!

Q. WHAT IS THE SCHOOL LEVY PROPOSAL?

A. It is proposed that a levy of an additional 6.3 mills for school operating expenses be voted on November 4, 1969.

Q. HOW WILL THIS ADDITIONAL INCOME BE USED TO IMPROVE OUR SCHOOLS?

A. There are many needs, but here are five of the most important uses for the increased revenue:

To enable our schools to meet minimum standards for school programs as required by the State Department of Education.

To carry out a program of building repair and maintenance before expensive deterioration occurs to our school buildings.

To meet the increasing costs of supplies, materials and services that are essential in our school system.

To enable our schools to attract and hold good teachers.

To meet the cost of increasing enrollment.

Q. HOW DO PRESENT SCHOOL COSTS IN CIRCLEVILLE COMPARE WITH SCHOOL COSTS IN OTHER OHIO COMMUNITIES?

A. Last year the educational cost per child in Circleville was 30% less than the Ohio city average.

Q. HOW MUCH HAS THE SCHOOL TAX RATE INCREASED IN CIRCLEVILLE IN RECENT YEARS?

A. Circleville school taxes have only increased 2.9 mills since 1962. This compares with an average of over 9 mills in other cities during this same period.

Q. HOW DOES THE SCHOOL TAX RATE IN CIRCLEVILLE COMPARE WITH OTHER OHIO SCHOOL DISTRICTS?

A. Among the 166 city school districts in Ohio, 154 have a higher school tax rate than Circleville. We cannot hope to continue to operate good schools for our children with a tax rate that is 25% below our neighboring communities.

Q. HOW MUCH MORE WILL THE 6.3 MILL LEVY COST?

A. Providing a better education for Circleville Children will amount to an additional cost of $2.70 for each one thousand dollars of market or sale value of property. For the average $12,000 homeowner this amounts to 61c per week or only about 8½c per day.

Q. DO THE SCHOOLS RECEIVE ANY MONEY FROM THE CITY INCOME TAX?

A. No. By state law, the only source of tax revenue available to a school district is through real and personal property tax.

Vote "FOR" better schools on Tuesday, Nov. 4

Berger Hospital Gift Shop Guild
Completes Plans For Holiday Sale

READYING ITEMS FOR SALE — Mrs. Gordon Fraser (left) and Mrs. F. D. O'Hara who serve as co-chairmen of the Gift Shop Guild, price and mark items to be sold at the annual Holiday Sale and Tea to be held in St. Philip's Parish House on W. Mound St.

GIFT SHOP FOUNDERS — Mrs. Truman Eberly (left) then president of General Guild was responsible for appointing a committee to organize a Gift Shop Guild in 1961. Mrs. Kenneth Luna (center) and Mrs. George Young, members of the original gift shop committee, join Mrs. Eberly in the hospital gift shop which they were instrumental in establishing by October, 1962.

PREMIERE SHOWING — Members of Berger Hospital Gift Shop Guild Executive Committee, from the left, Mrs. Richard Penn, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote and Mrs. Robert Cole give an admiring first look to gift items selected for sale at the Holiday Sale and Tea. The sale this year will feature a gift table for men and many import items.

Berger Hospital Gift Shop Guild members are completing plans for the Guild's annual Holiday Sale 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Nov. 6 and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Nov. 7 at St. Philip's Parish house, W. Mound St.

Tea will be served 2-4 p.m. each day of the sale. Serving will be wife of Berger Hospital Administrative Director Mrs. James Stambaugh and wives of doctors on the medical board of the hospital, Mrs. J. M. Hedges, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Carlos Alvarez.

The sale will feature Christmas gift items (many one of a kind), Christmas decorations and candles, toys, jewelry, Christmas wrappings and a special gift table for men.

The Gift Shop Guild is one of 26 Guilds of Berger Hospital organized for the purpose of providing supplementary equipment that will assist in the care of Berger Hospital patients. All guilds are members of parent General Guild.

The Gift Shop Guild is now seven years old, having been formed in October, 1962 by a committee appointed by Mrs. Truman Eberly, then president of General Guild. Committee members responsible for planning and preparing the gift shop were Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Walter Emiling, Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. Victor Rodgers.

With a loan of $500 from General Guild, display cases donated by J. C. Penney Co. and William Crist, the shop opened in the lobby of Berger Hospital to furnish service to patients, hospital personnel and visitors and to further aid Berger Hospital financially through proceeds.

In 1964, Ed Frericks of Circleville Lumber Co. donated and installed new shelving in the shop. With the committee's addition of glass doors, the lobby gift shop became a separate room off the lobby entrance of the hospital as it is today.

Although the gift shop committee is responsible for staffing the shop, members of all hospital guilds and individuals volunteer hours of service. Gift shop committee members shop for, price, arrange and keep inventory records of gift shop items, resold to the public for nominal profit.

From net profits, the Gift Shop Guild contributes an annual gift to the hospital, either in the form of a cash gift, which this year amounted to $1,235.90, or a gift of equipment selected from an approved list provided by the president of the General Guild. Net profits are reinvested in additional merchandise so that the Gift Shop will at all times be well stocked.

The term gift shop may be misleading as a visit there will indicate. The shop is first of all well stocked with miscellaneous personal items needed and most often used by hospital patients and personnel. The variety of gift items are numerous, attractive, inexpensive and are the result of many hours spent in their selection by individual committee members. The appealing potpourri is available to everyone.

Daily shopping hours 12:30-8:30 p.m. at the shop are established to coincide with visiting hours at the hospital.

Good organization, continued and faithful hours of volunteer service and significant patronage have made the gift shop successful. The $500 General Guild loan has been repaid. Increased sales have led to a substantial growth in gifts to the hospital from $750 in 1967 to $925 in 1968 and as heretofore mentioned, $1,235.90 in 1969 making possible the purchase of new and better equipment for use at Berger Hospital, which can better serve the community.

Gift Shop Guild members, with a selection of seasonal gift items, will be present to greet and serve patrons at the upcoming annual Holiday Sale and Tea November 6 and 7.

Music Club
For Juniors
Is Formed

Under the direction of Mrs. Paul W. Teegardin, organist and music director of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, a new Junior Music Club was formed recently.

St. Philip's girls choir combined with Mrs. Teegardin's private pupils in piano, organ, voice and music therapy comprise the new group.

Plans for the club were formulated and officers elected. Serving as the first president will be Cynthia Pike, vice president, Duane Hart; secretary, Ellen Palm and treasurer, Theresa Allen. A board of directors will be named at the next meeting.

The club will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, 7 p.m. at St. Philip's Church. The first official meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 5 with Melissa Griffith and Elizabeth Bowers acting as hostesses. A paper on Johan Sebastian Bach will be read by Evelyn Howard. Presenting piano solos will be Evelyn Howard, Linda Pike and Elizabeth Bowers. Duane Hart will play an organ solo.

The goals of the club as outlined by Mrs. Teegardin are active participation by members in solo performance; group choral performance; a study of classical composers; an examination of orchestral instruments with demonstrations by professional musicians; attendance at concerts throughout the season; a survey of drama and arts in relationship with the music of the church.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-2086

The Past Chiefs Club of the Pythian Sisters met in the home of Grace Reid last Thursday evening for the October meeting. Nineteen members and guests were present.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Arlene Fortner. Madge Baum gave the report of the secretary-treasurer. It was announced that the Past Chiefs Club and the Pythian Sisters had sent a supply of wash cloths to the Home in Medina. The wash cloths were needed for hospital use.

A combined meeting for the months of November and December will be held on December 1 in the home of Mona Morrison. A dollar gift exchange will be held following a carry-in dinner which will be served at 6:30 p.m.

A thank-you note was read from Jill Reese thanking the club for the planter she received while in the hospital.

Following the meeting games were played with first prize being awarded to Arlene Fortner. The door prize was won by Shirley Rathburn.

Those attending were Mary Helen Miller, Mary Ann Miller, Arlene Fortner, Hattie Rife, Shirley Rathburn, Edith Hudson, Clara Rihl, Georgia Hoover, Mae Borror, Madge Baum, Mildred Messick, Mona Morrison, Winnie Morrison, Carolyn Peters, Evelyn Morrison and the hostesses, Grace Reid, Dorothy Cook, Marilyn Sabine and Clarice Parmer. Also serving on the committee was Eveline Zwyer but she was unable to attend.

Mr. Roland Cook is a patient in Riverside Hospital where he is now undergoing tests and treatment.

Results of the Ashville Belles Bowling league on October 28 were: high single game, Connie Edgington, 192; high three game series, Bonnie Cline 459; high team game, Toole's Electric 673; high team series Morrison's Market 1,714.

Doris Olpp of Newark, Ohio was the houseguest of Miss Nelle Oesterle last week.

The Zion United Methodist Youth Fellowship met October 26 at the church. The newly elected officers took their positions for the meeting. Diane Cook, president presided during the meeting.

Mona Thompson opened the meeting with prayer. Several songs were sung by those present.

Following the singing a business meeting was held and plans for the remainder of the year were discussed.

The members present addressed the church news letters. Refreshments were served by Sherry Pennington.

David Cline closed the meeting with devotions and all joined in the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Pennington spent from October 11 to the 18 in the state of Georgia visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Pennington visited with their daughter Rosalie and husband at Fort Benning and Columbus, Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers visited with her cousin, Mrs. Marjorie Dell and daughter, Carla at Warner Robbins, Georgia.

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held recently honoring Miss Linda Leist, bride-elect of Louis McFarland. The shower was given by Miss Candy Miller of Ashville.

Miss Leist opened her gifts seated under a bridal wreath and streamers. Bridal decorations were used throughout the room.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced tea were enjoyed by Mrs. Gerald Leist, Mrs. Clark McFarland, Mrs. Delphia McCain, Mrs. Bev Carper, Mrs. Mary Helen Miller and the hostess, Miss Miller.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Linda Calvert, Bonnie Neff, Virginia Cupp and Martha Smith.

Mrs. Billy Fortner (Patsy Welsh) visited over the weekend with her husband, who is serving with the armed forces at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

Mr. Harry Brown is a patient in Mercy Hospital and has been going through a series of tests and observation.

Seven members of the Ashville Pythian Sisters were royally entertained for Friendship Night by the sisters of Cypress Temple, Stoutsville, on Monday evening.

The social room of the Temple Hall was beautifully decorated in the Halloween theme. The guests entered the room by going through an unlit hallway and were greeted by skeletons, black cats and spider webs. The only light in the room came from several candles. At each place setting each guest was greeted by a miniature ghost which was the favor for the evening.

Several games were played with winners being Mary Helen Miller and Marilyn Sabine. The door prize was won by Nellie Campbell of the Stoutsville Temple.

After the special contests were played a buffet lunch of ham and pimento cheese sandwiches, potato chips, pumpkin pie and whipped cream, cider and coffee were served.

Following the lunch more games were played and each and every person present received many, many useful gifts to take home with them.

Those members from Ashville enjoying the evening were Mary Helen Miller, Arlene Fortner, Mary Ann Miller, Madge Baum, Patsy Fortner, Edith Hudson and Marilyn Sabine.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet in the K of P Hall on November 4 for the regular monthly meeting.

Snow swirled out of the Rockies and onto the Plains today as a wave of arctic cold rolled toward the midcontinent.

Up to 3 inches of snow whitened the Nebraska Panhandle before daybreak after coating most of Colorado and eastern Wyoming. Northwestern Kansas also was hit by snow.

The wintry weather followed a belt of rain which extended from Texas and Louisiana to Minnesota. Downpours of an inch or more were common.

Temperatures skidded sharply in the northern Rockies. The mercury fell to 12 above zero at Bozeman, Mont., several hours before dawn.

A slight warming trend fanned through much of the East, but frost again coated the countryside in parts of the eastern Great Lakes and through an area stretching southeastward into North Carolina.

Showers dampened the Pacific Northwest and portions of Florida.

Genuinely mild weather remained confined to Florida where Miami had an overnight low temperature of 77.

Cahill's opponent is Democrat Robert Meyner, a former two-term governor.

In Hackensack, there was no motorcade. Nixon's helicopter landed on a football field beside the high school gymnasium where he spoke.

Heeding the advice of his Secret Service contingent, Nixon avoided shaking hands with a big crowd held behind a low fence at one end of the field. It was evident that there was a number of peace demonstrators in the throng.

Inside the gym, a few well-dressed young people hoisted peace signs as Nixon began speaking and then quietly filed from the room.

After the egg-throwing at Morristown Nixon's route of departure was changed and, as his limousine drove away, five uniformed officers and two plainclothesmen were seen rushing one young man out of the crowd around the hotel.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-2086

The Past Chiefs Club of the Pythian Sisters met in the home of Grace Reid last Thursday evening for the October meeting. Nineteen members and guests were present.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Arlene Fortner. Madge Baum gave the report of the secretary-treasurer. It was announced that the Past Chiefs Club and the Pythian Sisters had sent a supply of wash cloths to the Home in Medina. The wash cloths were needed for hospital use.

A combined meeting for the months of November and December will be held on December 1 in the home of Mona Morrison. A dollar gift exchange will be held following a carry-in dinner which will be served at 6:30 p.m.

A thank-you note was read from Jill Reese thanking the club for the planter she received while in the hospital.

Following the meeting games were played with first prize being awarded to Arlene Fortner. The door prize was won by Shirley Rathburn.

Those attending were Mary Helen Miller, Mary Ann Miller, Arlene Fortner, Hattie Rife, Shirley Rathburn, Edith Hudson, Clara Rihl, Georgia Hoover, Mae Borror, Madge Baum, Mildred Messick, Mona Morrison, Winnie Morrison, Carolyn Peters, Evelyn Morrison and the hostesses, Grace Reid, Dorothy Cook, Marilyn Sabine and Clarice Farmer. Also serving on the committee was Evelyn Zwyer but she was unable to attend.

Mr. Roland Cook is a patient in Riverside Hospital where he is now undergoing tests and treatment.

Results of the Ashville Belles Bowling league on October 28 were: high single game, Connie Edgington, 192; high three game series, Bonnie Cline 459; high team game, Toole's Electric 673; high team series Morrison's Market 1,714.

Doris Olpp of Newark, Ohio was the houseguest of Miss Nelle Oesterle last week.

The Zion United Methodist Youth Fellowship met October 26 at the church. The newly elected officers took their positions for the meeting. Diane Cook, president presided during the meeting.

Mona Thompson opened the meeting with prayer. Several songs were sung by those present.

Following the singing a business meeting was held and plans for the remainder of the year were discussed.

The members present addressed the church news letters. Refreshments were served by Sherry Pennington.

David Cline closed the meeting with devotions and all joined in the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Pennington spent from October 11 to the 18 in the state of Georgia visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Pennington visited with their daughter Rosalie and husband at Fort Benning and Columbus, Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers visited with her cousin, Mrs. Marjorie Dell and daughter, Carla at Warner Robbins, Georgia.

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held recently honoring Miss Linda Leist, bride-elect of Louis McFarland. The shower was given by Miss Candy Miller of Ashville.

Miss Leist opened her gifts seated under a bridal wreath and streamers. Bridal decorations were used throughout the room.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced tea were enjoyed by Mrs. Gerald Leist, Mrs. Clark McFarland, Mrs. Delphia McCain, Mrs. Bev Carper, Mrs. Mary Helen Miller and the hostess, Miss Miller.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Linda Calvert, Bonnie Neff, Virginia Cupp and Martha Smith.

Mrs. Billy Fortner (Patsy Welsh) visited over the weekend with her husband, who is serving with the armed forces at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

Mr. Harry Brown is a patient in Mercy Hospital and has been going through a series of tests and observation.

Seven members of the Ashville Pythian Sisters were royally entertained for Friendship Night by the sisters of Cypress Temple, Stoutsville, on Monday evening.

The social room of the Temple Hall was beautifully decorated in the Halloween theme. The guests entered the room by going through an unlit hallway and were greeted by skeletons, black cats and spider webs. The only light in the room came from several candles. At each place setting each guest was greeted by a miniature ghost which was the favor for the evening.

Several games were played with winners being Mary Helen Miller and Marilyn Sabine. The door prize was won by Nellie Campbell of the Stoutsville Temple.

After the special contests were played a buffet lunch of ham and pimento cheese sandwiches, potato chips, pumpkin pie and whipped cream, cider and coffee were served.

Following the lunch more games were played and each and every person present received many, many useful gifts to take home with them.

Those members from Ashville enjoying the evening were Mary Helen Miller, Arlene Fortner, Mary Ann Miller, Madge Baum, Patsy Fortner, Edith Hudson and Marilyn Sabine.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet in the K of P Hall on November 4 for the regular monthly meeting.

Urge Panel To Study Legalized Pornography

NEW YORK (AP) — An officer of the American Psychoanalytic Association has suggested that the federal government set up a national commission to study whether to legalize pornography in the United States.

Dr. Bernard L. Pacella, chairman of the association's public information committee, made the suggestion after a seminar on pornography and violence at which participants said the dangers of pornography to society, to the family or to children, were minimal.

"Psychoanalysts in general," he said, "believe that there is no direct relationship between pornography and crime and violence."

But because there is great controversy over the subject, Dr. Pacella said, a major national study should be conducted to seek clear answers.

Such a commission, Dr. Pacella said, should include a psychiatrist, a sociologist, an anthropologist, an educator, opponents of legalized pornography and others.

The pornography seminar was held for science writers by the association, Dr. Pacella said, to explore analysts' viewpoints on current problems, part of a tendency in the profession to "move away from isolation to confrontation" with social issues.

Dr. Pacella, chief of the child psychiatry division at Roosevelt Hospital in New York, suggested the commission approach to the pornography question in an interview Wednesday after the seminar.

In Denmark, he said, legalization of pornography followed such a commission study.

Disputing the argument that pornography can lead to antisocial behavior in children, Dr. Aaron H. Esman, director of psychiatric training for a New York mental health agency, commented:

"I have never seen an instance of pathological behavior in any child that could be attributed to pornography. That I can say categorically. I have never seen an instance in which this is true."

The analysts agreed that what is important for children and adolescents is not exposure to pornography, but their family life. Given a strong home life, reasonable parents, reasonable freedom, Dr. Pacella said, "I don't think it matters what pornography they see, really."

But Dr. Pacella said that before any legalization of pornography takes place, society should be aware of many questions: How to handle sex education in schools? What effect would it have on marriages? What about a person's aesthetic values? "And a multitude of other questions."

Dr. Pacella listed some of the reasons for legalizing pornography offered by the commission in Denmark:

—There would be a tendency toward the publication of less pornography.

—There would be a tendency toward "better pornography . . . It wouldn't be so offensive, so devoid of love . . . The more aesthetically talented would enter the field."

—There would be a reduction in sex crimes, and statistics seem to bear this out, Dr. Pacella said.

—It could have good effects, such as stimulating the sex life of "tired-out married couples"

3 Atomic Tests Are Touched Off At Nevada Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Three underground nuclear tests were set off at the Nevada test site 75 miles north of this resort city Wednesday, but they didn't disturb the gambling.

Chandeliers at the 29-story Landmark Hotel swayed for several seconds after the last blast, described as low-intermediate yield, equal to 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT.

The Atomic Energy Commission said one of the three released a small amount of radioactivity but officials said the radioactivity was not expected to spread beyond the test site.

The first test was of low yield, less than 20,000 tons of TNT, the AEC said. The second was described as of low-intermediate yield.

Work To Begin On New Bridge

CINCINNATI (AP) — Work to clear the way for a new two-lane super structure for the closed C&O Bridge is to begin in spring as Ohio and Kentucky officials have approved a $7.1 million project.

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe and Govs. James A.

Rhodes of Ohio and Louie Nunn of Kentucky released the information Wednesday at a news conference.

The governors said that crews will start by razing the existing superstructure of the bridge which was ordered closed last November because of its hazardous condition. It spans the Ohio River from here to Covington, Ky.

Readers Define The Word 'Hippie'

DEAR ABBY: In response to your request for a definition of the word "hippie," the following is rendered:

In one particular lawsuit "hippies" are identified as unconventional young persons in rebellion against competitive middle-class values who usually consort with their own kind and tend to symbolize rebellion through hirsuteness and picturesque garb. Sincerely,

SAN DIEGO ATTORNEY
DEAR ABBY: THE word "hippie" has no meaning. It is simply another example of the American penchant for classifying, pigeon-holing and lumping together everything and everybody into convenient little categories.

In the minds of ignorant small-minded people, a "hippie" is equated with uncleanness, drug addiction and the communist conspiracy. This image has become so implanted in the American mind that many people who wear their hair long and dress individually are harassed by the police, denied their civil rights, and have been violently attacked by their fellow Americans.

I have worn my hair long for two years, and I dress to suit myself. I bathe at least once a day. I don't use alcohol or drugs, nor do I advocate the overthrow of our government. In fact, I served in the United States air force and received an honorable discharge.

No one likes to be called a "hippie." I have a name. My parents gave it to me when I was born, and it suits me just fine. I know who I am. Thank you.

"WILLIAM"
DEAR ABBY: A hippie is a runaway, a cop-out, an escapist. He has nothing to contribute to society and hangs around with people like himself, sharing that "nothing." He gives the appearance of being unwashed and his hair is long and wild. He dresses in a manner to attract attention while insisting that all he wants is to be left alone to do his "thing." (His "thing is doing nothing.) He shouts about his "right" to discover his own identity and to be "himself." Then he turns on with marijuana and LSD, and can't remember where he's been or who he is.

A hippie is antiestablishment, anti-church, anti-conformist, and anti-everything. But if you line up these "individualists" side by side, you can't tell one from the other.

A 23-YEAR-OLD FOGGY
DEAR ABBY: A "hippie" is something that looks like a Jack, dresses like a Jill, and smells like a John.

JOE MILLER
DEAR ABBY: So you want to know what a hippie is? Please pay attention: "Untoiled. One who sprang forth unattended, a random product of some indifferent mating process." Cheers!

TOM LEARY
DEAR ABBY: You asked for a definition of hippie? What's the matter with the three-letter word "BUM"?

DEAR ABBY: "Define a hippie," you say. When I hear "respectable" (and narrow-minded) women my age making caustic remarks about "hippies," I have felt that this sort of confrontation has occurred again and again through history. So I finally broke into verse. Here is my poem:

"What are these persons — bearded, shabby and not overclean, who preach against our emperor, our legions and our shrines
"My dear, they are a strange sect called Christians, I believe."

Cook it, kids, no lions this time. Merely jail or fines! I fear my sympathies lie entirely with the younger people.

Court Nixes Manslaughter Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Akron man who was convicted of manslaughter for allegedly causing another man to suffer a heart attack has lost his appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The high court ruled Wednesday that no substantial constitutional questions were involved in the conviction of James Nosis in connection with the March 22, 1968, death of Charles Ripple.

Nosis' conviction was the first in Ohio for unlawful killing in a death admittedly brought on by a heart attack. It was upheld by the court of appeals in Summit County.

According to court records, Ripple, who had a heart condition, suffered the attack after an extended argument with Nosis over an incident in traffic. Nosis was convicted of first-degree manslaughter and sentenced to 1-20 years in prison.

In another case, the Supreme Court refused to permit Lavergne L. Sterne, a Cincinnati City Council candidate, from using her nickname on next Tuesday's ballot.

Mrs. Sterne wanted to have the name, Bobbie Sterne, on the ballot, but the high court ruled that this could in no way be considered her legal name.

The court decided that Anthony Flex of Canton should have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for municipal court judge. The Stark County Board of Elections had refused to put Flex's name on the ballot.

The court, which last June ruled that incumbent Democrat Clay E. Hunter was ineligible because of his age, said a Democratic committee's selection of Flex as Hunter's replacement was legal because Hunter's ineligibility amounted to "an involuntary withdrawal."

The court said the name of Winfred Wisniewski should not go on the ballot as a candidate for mayor of Independence in Cuyahoga County.

Wisniewski's convictions in 1968 on several violations concerning contracts with municipal government disqualifies him from holding any office in the municipal corporation, the high court said.

The Supreme Court refused to hear a Cleveland man's contention that a fundamentalist

Harriman Raps Nixon Policies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — W. Averell Harriman told a Yale University audience Tuesday night to "keep up the pressure" on President Nixon because his approach to peace in Vietnam is "absolutely wrong."

Harriman, the veteran diplomat who led President Lyndon B. Johnson's negotiating team in Paris last year, spoke before the Yale Political Union.

In the Vietnam peace negotiations, Harriman said, "our problem now is we're dealing with this in exactly the wrong way."

"What you want to do is reduce the fighting," not turn it over to the South Vietnamese, he said.

church group alienated his wife's affections.

Saying there was no constitutional question involved, the court let stand a court of appeals decision that reversed a $30,000 damage award to Melvin E. Bradesku in Summit County Common Pleas Court.

Bradesku said the Radio Church of God convinced his wife, Isabel, mother of his five children, that she was living in adultery because he had been married twice before.

A furnished but vacant summer home or second house is considered an inhabited dwelling, the court ruled in affirming the life imprisonment sentence given Donald Eugene Lisiewski of Warren, Mich., convicted of entering four such dwellings in Ottawa County in March 1967.

The court ruled that, under Ohio law, State Director of Public Works Alfred C. Gienow should have held a hearing on who had title rights to a selection of the Maumee River bed near Rossford.

Lamson and Lydia S. Rheinfrank, owners of property fronting on the river, objected to Gienow's issuance of permits for dredging without holding a hearing.

Little Girl Is Abandoned

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies say they've had numerous offers of adoption and financial aid for Jody Smith, a bright-eyed 4-year-old found abandoned alongside Highway 99. But they haven't found her parents.

Jody was spotted by a highway patrolman early Saturday clinging to the freeway fence alongside a lonely stretch of the highway south of Bakersfield.

She told the patrolman her parents had taken her out of the

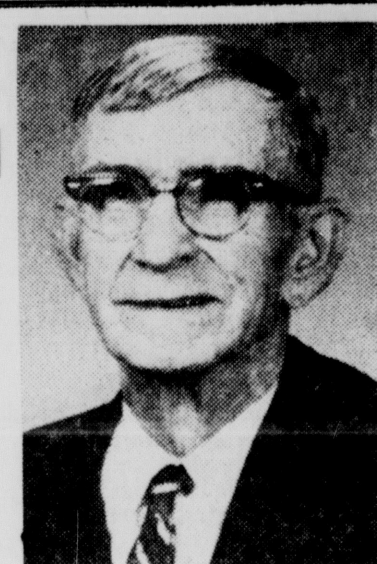

Ask U.S. To Set Up Recreation Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources has asked the U.S. Interior Department to establish national recreation areas in the Geneva-on-the-Lake and Hocking Hills vicinities.

Department Director Fred E. Morr said Wednesday exact locations are not being disclosed to forestall any land speculation.

A KNIGHT OUT—A motorist stares in amazement at a medieval knight in shining armor strolling along a street in Belleville, Ill. The knight carrying a two-handed broadsword is a newspaperman, Bill Thompson, who just wanted to find out how it feels to walk around in 38 pounds of armor. The owner of the suit, Fred Powell of Belleville, purchased it recently in Chicago for $1,800.

Court Nixes Manslaughter Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Akron man who was convicted of manslaughter for allegedly causing another man to suffer a heart attack has lost his appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The high court ruled Wednesday that no substantial constitutional questions were involved in the conviction of James Nosis in connection with the March 22, 1968, death of Charles Ripple.

Nosis' conviction was the first in Ohio for unlawful killing in a death admitted brought on by a heart attack. It was upheld by the court of appeals in Summit County.

According to court records, Ripple, who had a heart condition, suffered the attack after an extended argument with Nosis over an incident in traffic. Nosis was convicted of first-degree manslaughter and sentenced to 120 years in prison.

In another case, the Supreme Court refused to permit Lavergne L. Sterne, a Cincinnati City Council candidate, from using her nickname on next Tuesday's ballot.

Mrs. Sterne wanted to have the name, Bobbie Sterne, on the ballot, but the high court ruled that this could in no way be considered her legal name.

The court decided that Anthony Flex of Canton should have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for municipal court judge. The Stark County Board of Elections had refused to put Flex's name on the ballot.

The court, which last June ruled that incumbent Democrat E. Hunter was ineligible because of his age, said a Democratic committee's selection of Flex as Hunter's replacement was legal because Hunter's ineligibility amounted to "an involuntary withdrawal."

The court said the name of Winfred Wisniewski should not go on the ballot as a candidate for mayor of Independence in Cuyahoga County.

Wisniewski's convictions in 1968 on several violations concerning contracts with municipal government disqualifies him from holding any office in the municipal corporation, the high court said.

The Supreme Court refused to hear a Cleveland man's contention that a fundamentalist church group alienated his wife's affections.

Saying there was no constitutional question involved, the court let stand a court of appeals decision that reversed a $30,000 damage award to Melvin E. Bradesku in Summit County Common Pleas Court.

Bradesku said the Radio Church of God convinced his wife, Isabel, mother of his five children, that she was living in adultery because he had been married twice before.

A furnished but vacant summer home or second house is considered an inhabited dwelling, the court ruled in affirming the life imprisonment sentence given Donald Eugene Lisiewski of Warren, Mich., convicted of entering four such dwellings in Ottawa County in March 1967.

The court ruled that, under Ohio law, State Director of Public Works Alfred C. Genow should have held a hearing on who had title rights to a selection of the Maumee River bed near Rossford.

Lamson and Lydia S. Rheinfrank, owners of property fronting on the river, objected to Genow's issuance of permits for dredging without holding a hearing.

Harriman Raps Nixon Policies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)— W. Averell Harriman told a Yale University audience Tuesday night to "keep up the pressure" on President Nixon because his approach to peace in Vietnam is "absolutely wrong."

Harriman, the veteran diplomat who led President Lyndon B. Johnson's negotiating team in Paris last year, spoke before the Yale Political Union.

In the Vietnam peace negotiations, Harriman said, "our problem now is we're dealing with this in exactly the wrong way."

"What you want to do is reduce the fighting," not turn it over to the South Vietnamese, he said.

National Policemen's Unions Slowly Gaining Ground

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — "There already is a policemen's union," the off-duty policeman said as he sat in a downtown bar. "It isn't on paper but it's there."

But even as he glanced through the beery haze at a dancer shimmering on stage, plans were underway for that policemen's union to get on paper—and take firm national form.

The Detroit policeman was out of uniform but everyone at the bar knew he was a cop and he knew they knew. He was big, raw-boned and crewcut. He might as well have worn a badge on his rumped brown suit.

And soon he might also be carrying a card of a national police union. Separate drives to create such unions are being led by militant policemen. John Cassese of New York and Richard G. MacEachern of Boston. Their organizations are in the formative stages, but each claim the backing of policemen across the country.

For now, though, just the unspoken union of policemen was enough for the Detroit officer.

His 1964 sedan was parked outside the bar at a bus stop. As he had left the car, an old man pointed out the "No Parking" sign and the policeman told him curtly: "What's it to you?"

"Sure he knew I was a cop," the policeman said as he walked toward the bar. "How could I hide it?"

For the past 10 years, he has survived on the streets of Detroit. He hasn't done it by being a nice guy or backing down or trusting people.

He trusts his policeman-father, his wife and family and some of his colleagues—some, not all.

But even those he doesn't trust, he wouldn't betray. "Sure, there's a blue curtain," he said. It was part of what he meant by the unofficial union.

He told of the great Detroit riot of 1967 and how people scaled slivers of glass at the police in the streets. He told of how a sniper narrowly missed him as he advanced behind a patrol car. He told of the tension of working for days with just snatches of sleep and how one of his friends was shot in the knee.

"It sounds like no big thing. So what. But he can't go hunting again. But hunting was his hobby and it was a big thing to him. What if your thing was writing and someone shot off your hands. It would be a big thing to you."

He also told of how he tried to keep control over his emotions but how they spill over, when, for example, a hostile crowd begins taunting the police.

And when, another policeman is flailing away at someone with his club, the impulse is to join in.

"If a policeman is using his club on someone, he must have reason," the policeman said.

Just as there is a reason, he said, for long hair. "Nobody wears their hair that way just because they like it," he said. "It's because they're protesting something."

He said he believed there were things to protest. He spoke with scorn of cheating businessmen, politicians, even clergymen who play the angles. He said he didn't go to church. Sunday services meant nothing to him.

Yet, he said, he had his morals and the protesters were out to destroy the values he lived by.

Negroes, he said, were the worst off of all. "Yes, if I were one I'd be out there with the militants," he said. "I guess I'd be one of them."

Being a policeman, he said, walking away from an unfinished glass of beer, is a crummy job.

"You've got to be a schizophranic," he said. "You've got to deal with all the garbage and then go home to your wife and kids and be a nice guy."

The Children's Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pickaway County Public Library has a section devoted to books for children. Volumes recently added to the Children's Library are reviewed here.

Would you like to know which stories are best-loved by children in Pickaway County? During Book Week, November 17-22, there will be a "Book House" on display at the library. Children may vote for their favorite stories by dropping their ballots down the chimney. Results of the contest will be published in this column the week of November 24.

Listed below are several books of non-fiction. These have recently been added to the collection in the children's department. They will be of special interest to teachers, Scout and Four-H leaders and parents who wish to encourage scientific curiosity in their children.

"This is Cape Kennedy" by Miroslav Sasek. End papers in this remarkably clear book are a map of the stars. Inside, there is first of all a description of the Cape, then a history of the activities of the space center. Mr. Sasek presents his material with exceptional clarity. Illustrations are bright and colorful, print is large. "This is Cape Kennedy" is graded for grades 4-6, but younger children will enjoy looking at the pictures.

"Wonders Beyond the Solar System" by Rocco Peravolo. One of the excellent science series of "Wonder" books published by Dodd, Mead.

"Hatch and Grow" by Ivah Green and George Smith. This is a good reference book for the elementary grades. Life stories of over a hundred common insects are described and each is accompanied by close-up photographs which Mr. Smith has taken. Last chapter of the book discusses insect photography. Elementary reference.

"Bone for Bone" by Margaret Cosgrove. Here is a fascinating presentation of comparative anatomy, complete with drawings. Relationships in bone structure, muscles, movement, coverings are shown. Grades 4-6.

"The Prairie Schooner" by Glen Rounds. Glen Rounds' discussion of the covered wagon, specifically the great treks of the late 1840's, is both factual and entertaining. Readers can almost taste the trail dust and smell buffalo chips burning in the campfires. More than fifty drawings show the jolting, rolling, painful trips. The book is printed on off-white paper which makes Mr. Rounds' illustrations especially pleasing to the eye. Grades 4-6.

"Gallant Women" by Margaret Chase Smith and H. Paul Jeffers. Mrs. Smith is the only woman who has served in both house and senate. She has been a member of congress since 1940 and has a keen sense of history. True stories of the lives of Dolly Madison, Harriet Tubman, Amelia Earhart and nine others are told here. Mrs. Smith says that she, personally, owes more to Susan B. Anthony than to any other woman of American history. Her book is inspirational reading for any girl.

Laird Plans To Make Junk Of Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today disclosed a sharp reduction in U.S. air defenses and retirement of the country's only supersonic bombers in connection with closing or curtailment of 307 military bases and other economy actions.

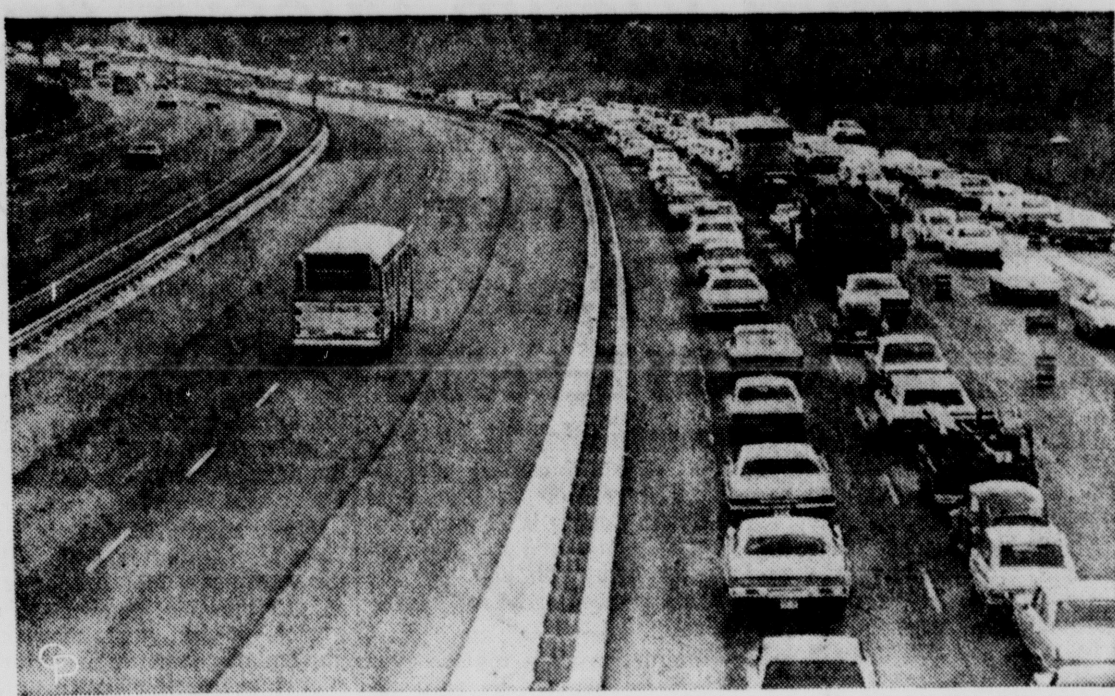

Some of the defenses against possible bomber attack will be shifted to the Air National Guard, which will be given better fighters.

Some of the deepest air defense cuts will come in Florida, where three weeks ago a Cuban MIG17 jet evaded the U.S. radar net by flying close to the ocean surface as its pilot defected to the United States.

Another area where air defense will be weakened is Alaska, where U.S. territory approaches closest to the Soviet Union.

Many of these actions will take place by January, as part of the Pentagon's forced-draft effort to save up to $3 billion this fiscal year.

They follow Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's announcement Monday of curtailment of the military base program, including 280 bases in this country, details of which were announced today.

NEW TRAFFIC GIMMICK—A bus moves north on Interstate 95 in Virginia on its way to Washington as the capital tries a new concept for rush hour traffic—letting buses have exclusive use of a freeway lane during the busy times. It might not be a bad idea to move the trucks over there too.

Razor Blade Put In Apple

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Bill Gunn, 12, sliced a Halloween gift apple into two pieces to eat it and found a double-edged razor blade stuck inside.

He figures it is lucky he doesn't like apple peeling or he might have bitten into the apple unsliced.

"I went to so many homes that I don't know where I got that apple," the youngster said.

He got the fruit while on a Halloween trick or treat trip Sunday night.

Dairy cows are today producing more milk than ever before. It's a good thing they are, because although cow numbers in the U.S. have decreased 3.5 per cent this year, milk production will decrease only about 2 per cent — to 117 billion pounds.

WHERE IT'S A PLEASURE TO DO BUSINESS

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Brass Are Comin'" Herb Alpert's NBC television special Wednesday night, was his third in three years, and it seemed to suffer from a desire to top the other two. The result was a spotty, mixed bag.

No hour filled with the music of Alpert and his Tijuana Brass can fail to delight. But on top of that rich serving was heaped the visual part. Some marvelous material was filmed on California beaches, but there were the trick shots—fades, dissolves, strange Dali-esque segments of the band playing on the desert.

There were some happy moments, too, including Alpert's and Petula Clark's satirizing the style of the master movie makers from Fellini to Busby Berkeley.

Alpert, a great trumpet player and a romantic figure, essayed a little singing, too, displaying considerable style but pretty thin notes.

Maybe everybody was trying too hard.

Midseason action is warming up in the television bullpens. "Hee Haw" is back in production, certain of a CBS spot around New Year's, probably the current "Leslie Uggams Show" time period. Johnny Cash and his crew start making new shows for ABC in the next 10 days.

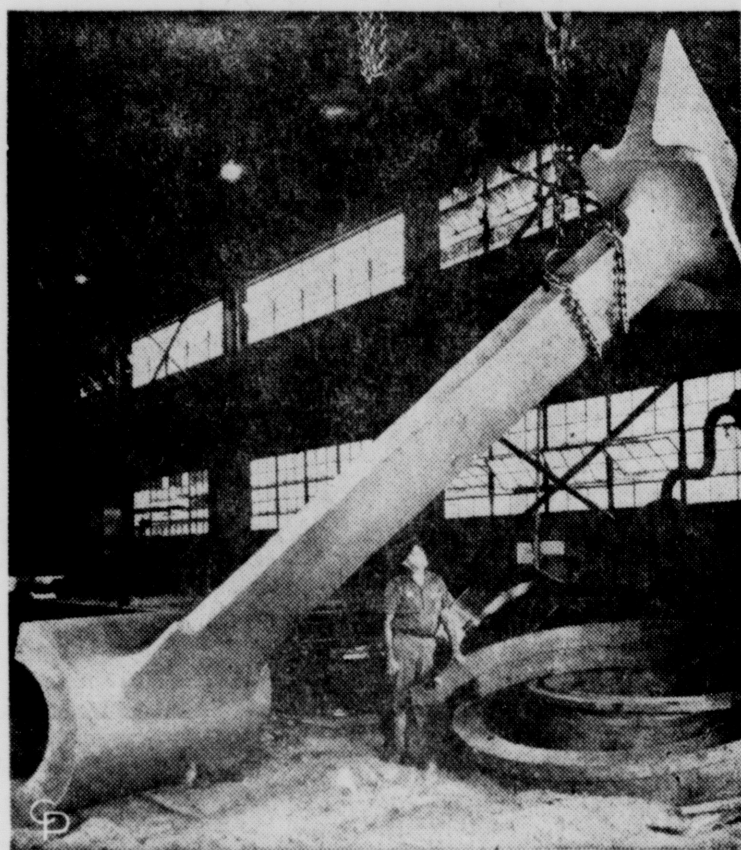

Programming executives of all three networks are in conference about cancellations and replacements. Among programs likely to disappear at midseason is CBS' "The Good Guys."

ABC is unhappy about the reception of "Music Scene," "The New People," "The Brady Bunch" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." It is unhappy about more than that, but there is a limit to how much repair work can be done. It has in the wings the "Pat Paulsen Show," and Engelbert Humperdinck variety hour and a situation comedy called "Nanny," about a governess.

It will finish out the season with "The Survivors" no matter what the ratings, and will stick by "It Takes a Thief," "Here Come the Brides" and "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," all of which are languishing.

NBC is not enchanted with the reception of "The Debbie Reynolds Show" or "Bracken's World." "I Dream of Jeannie" is on the weak side, too. But since there are often contracts and commitments, it is expected that, if anything goes, it is likely to be "Bracken's World."

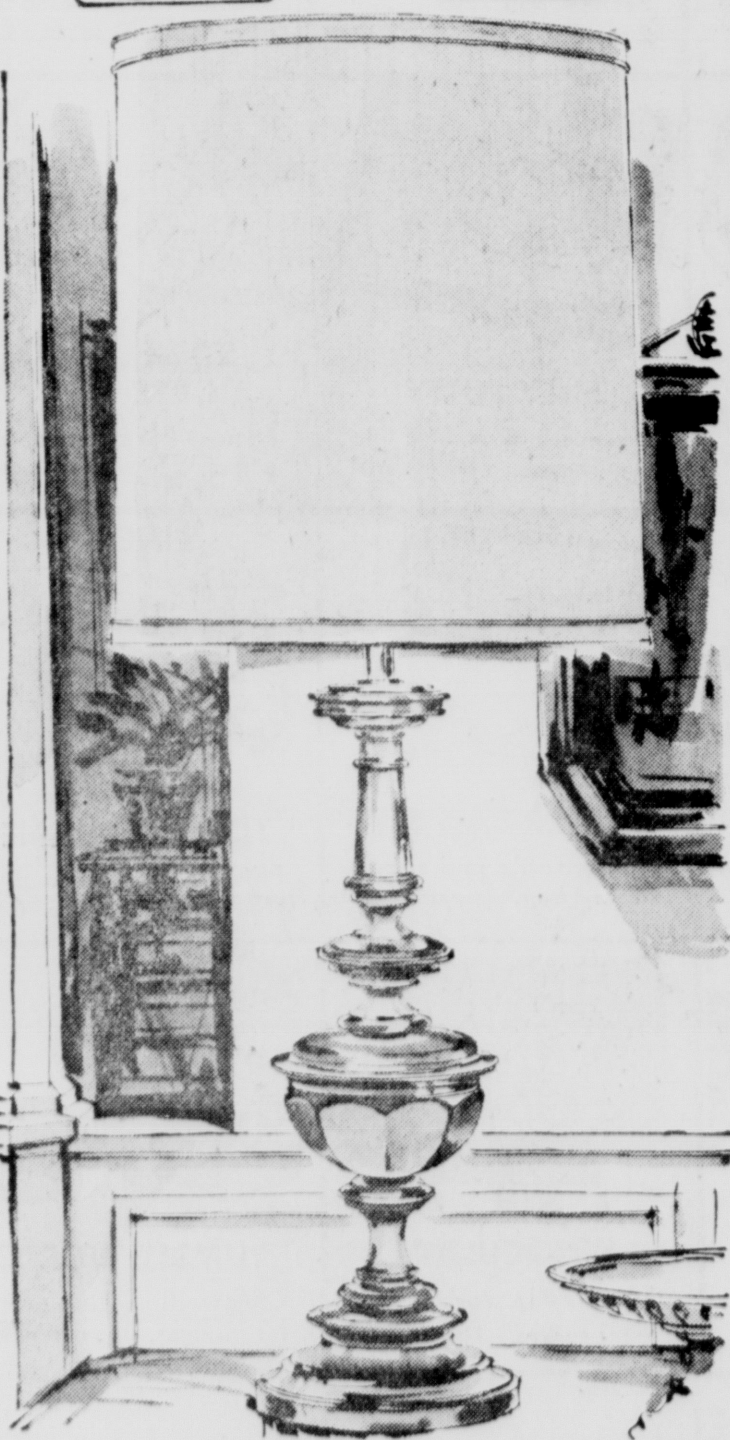

WHAT A DOGGY BONE!—This 20-ton steel casting produced by Milwaukee's Falk Corp. is only one-half of a mammoth support strut for a propeller shaft of an ocean freighter.

Leukemia Victim Dies; Had Opposed Research Fund Cut

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — A month ago Sandra Vitorelo, 22-year-old leukemia sufferer, wrote to President Nixon protesting cuts in federal funds for medical research.

The reply from the White House arrived Monday at the University of California Cancer Research Institute, where she was a patient.

"I opened the letter for her—she was so feeble," said her mother, Mrs. Emile Silver. "She read it in a great deal of pain. It was three pages of explanation."

"Then she sort of shrugged and said, 'Just about what I expected. That's his rationalization, not mine.' And she told us to see that the newspapers got the story."

On Wednesday, Sandra died. Newspapers and the California Nurses Association monthly bulletin had printed the Sept. 27 letter in which Sandra, a college-trained nurse, told the President:

"We who are afflicted with such diseases as leukemia and cancer live only in the hope that a cure can be found in time... By cutting off the great fed-

New Prison 14 Weeks Off Schedule

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The new $25 million penitentiary being built at Lucasville in Scioto County is 14 weeks behind schedule and the contractor is being blamed by the state's project architect for the delay.

Completion date for the new prison is been set by state officials for the end of 1970, and they say that the projected completion date was a vital factor when awarding the general construction contract to the S.S. Silberblatt Co. of New York.

William Colley, project architect, said Silberblatt refuses to hire enough workmen to push for scheduled completion. "There should be 700 to 800 men on this job, and there are really about 370," said Colley.

Strikes and labor difficulties have also delayed the project. Since Monday members of the Bricklayers Union have been off the job in a dispute over layoffs of bricklayers. The union has complained that more local than out-of-town bricklayers were laid off and about 47 members of the union have walked out in protest.

Colley said layoffs rather than hiring of more workmen is indicative of the contractor's performance.

The bricklayers have not picketed and other construction workers are on the job. Colley said work can continue for some time without the bricklayers, but eventually the entire project could be closed.

As of this week the penitentiary is about 30 per cent completed.

eral allotment to this cause, you have greatly jeopardized our hopes of a breakthrough."

The reply was from White House staff assistant Noble M. Melencamp, who said the President "has asked me to relay to you his personal good wishes and hopes for your speedy and complete recovery."

The letter listed "peace for this country and the world" as the Nixon administration's first priority and halting "erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar" as its second.

"The administration is convinced," the letter said, "that the excellence and productivity of the nation's biomedical research effort generally, and particularly the high priority cancer research programs, will not be jeopardized by the current situation."

Mrs. Silver said Sandra was stricken with leukemia two days after her 21st birthday, Sept. 9, 1968.

She was able to finish work

for her bachelor's degree and registered nurse's certificate at San Francisco State College and was graduated last June.

Her fiancé, John A. Vitorelo

Tingler Trial Costs Shown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's share of the cost of the Richard Lee Tingler Jr. murder trial was $11,769, a record for the Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

The court clerk's office said Wednesday the figure does not include costs that must be picked up by the county.

Tingler was convicted Oct. 10 of the slaying last year of Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, both of Columbus, during a dairy store robbery. He is awaiting execution in the Ohio Penitentiary.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Brass Are Comin'." Herb Alpert's NBC television special Wednesday night, was his third in three years, and it seemed to suffer from a desire to top the other two. The result was a spotty, mixed bag.

No hour filled with the music of Alpert and his Tijuana Brass can fail to delight. But on top of that rich serving was heaped the visual part. Some marvelous material was filmed on California beaches, but there were the trick shots—fades, dissolves, strange Dali-esque segments of the band playing on the desert.

There were some happy moments, too, including Alpert's and Petula Clark's satirizing the style of the master movie makers from Fellini to Busby Berkeley.

Alpert, a great trumpet player and a romantic figure, essayed a little singing, too, displaying considerable style but pretty thin notes.

Maybe everybody was trying too hard.

Midseason action is warming up in the television bullpens. "Hee Haw" is back in production, certain of a CBS spot around New Year's, probably the current "Leslie Uggams Show" time period. Johnny Cash and his crew start making new shows for ABC in the next 10 days.

Programming executives of all three networks are in conference about cancellations and replacements. Among programs likely to disappear at midseason is CBS' "The Good Guys."

ABC is unhappy about the reception of "Music Scene," "The New People," "The Brady Bunch" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to

Leukemia Victim Dies; Had Opposed Research Fund Cut

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — A month ago Sandra Vitorelo, 22-year-old leukemia sufferer, wrote to President Nixon protesting cuts in federal funds for medical research.

The reply from the White House arrived Monday at the University of California Cancer Research Institute, where she was a patient.

"I opened the letter for her—she was so feeble," said her mother, Mrs. Emile Silver. "She read it in a great deal of pain. It was three pages of explanation."

"Then she sort of shrugged and said, 'Just about what I expected. That's his rationalization, not mine.' And she told us to see that the newspapers got the story."

On Wednesday, Sandra died. Newspapers and the California Nurses Association monthly bulletin had printed the Sept. 27 letter in which Sandra, a college-trained nurse, told the President:

"We who are afflicted with such diseases as leukemia and cancer live only in the hope that a cure can be found in time...

New Prison 14 Weeks Off Schedule

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The new $25 million penitentiary being built at Lucasville in Scioto County is 14 weeks behind schedule and the contractor is being blamed by the state's project architect for the delay.

Completion date for the new prison has been set by state officials for the end of 1970, and they say that the projected completion date was a vital factor when awarding the general construction contract to the S.S. Silberblatt Co. of New York.

William Colley, project architect, said Silberblatt refuses to hire enough workmen to push for scheduled completion. "There should be 700 to 800 men on this job, and there are really about 370," said Colley.

Strikes and labor difficulties have also delayed the project. Since Monday members of the Bricklayers Union have been off the job in a dispute over layoffs of bricklayers. The union has complained that more local than out-of-town bricklayers were laid off and about 47 members of the union have walked out in protest.

Colley said layoffs rather than hiring of more workmen is indicative of the contractor's performance.

The bricklayers have not picketed and other construction workers are on the job. Colley said work can continue for some time without the bricklayers, but eventually the entire project could be closed.

As of this week the penitentiary is about 30 per cent completed.

eral allotment to this cause, you have greatly jeopardized our hopes of a breakthrough."

The reply was from White House staff assistant Noble M. Melencamp, who said the President "has asked me to relay to you his personal good wishes and hopes for your speedy and complete recovery."

The letter listed "peace for this country and the world" as the Nixon administration's first priority and halting "erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar" as its second.

"The administration is convinced," the letter said, "that the excellence and productivity of the nation's biomedical research effort generally, and particularly the high priority cancer research programs, will not be jeopardized by the current situation."

Mrs. Silver said Sandra was stricken with leukemia two days after her 21st birthday, Sept. 3, 1968.

She was able to finish work

for her bachelor's degree and registered nurse's certificate at San Francisco State College and was graduated last June.

Her fiancé, John A. Vitorelo

Tingler Trial Costs Shown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's share of the cost of the Richard Lee Tingler Jr. murder trial was $11,769, a record for the Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

The court clerk's office said Wednesday the figure does not include costs that must be picked up by the county.

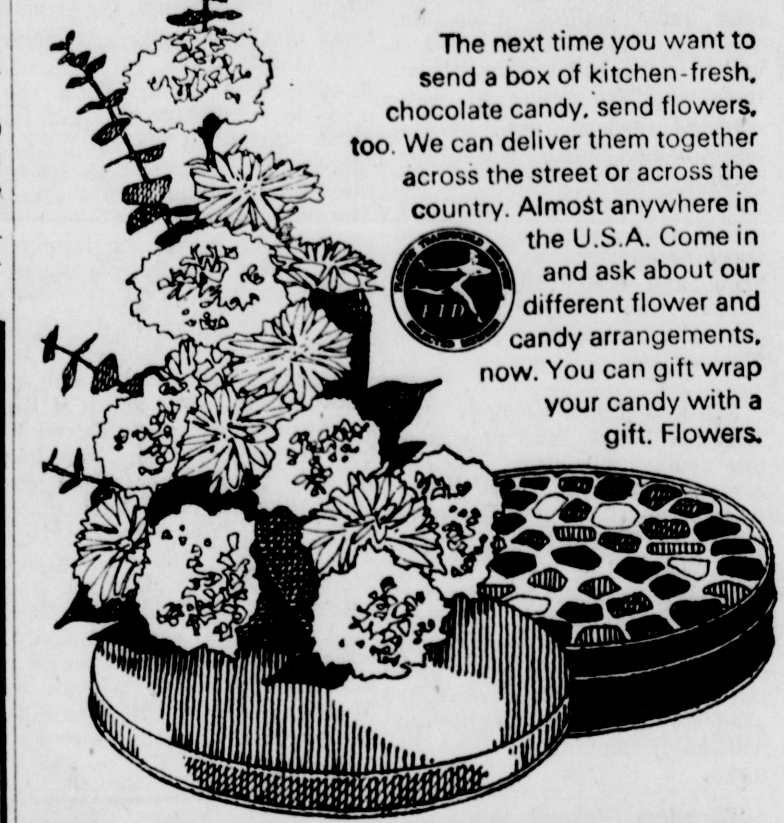

Tingler was convicted Oct. 10 of the slaying last year of Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, both of Columbus, during a dairy store robbery. He is awaiting execution in the Ohio Penitentiary.

came home last autumn from Vietnam, where he served in the Signal Corps. They were married Oct. 5, 1968, and he was reassigned to the Presidio of San Francisco.

There will be a funeral Mass for Sandra Friday morning. Explaining why Sandra wrote to the President, her mother said:

"All she hoped was that some good would come out of it... some benefit to sufferers."

Stans Fires OMBE Head For Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has fired the disgruntled head of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise after he publicly urged black businessmen to pressure the government for increased aid to minorities.

Sources said Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans personally ordered Thomas F. Roeser fired Tuesday, not only for his stand on minority business aid but because he openly criticized the way the OMBE was being promoted.

However, the 41-year-old Roeser, a white, former public relations man, was kept on as assistant to Stans with new responsibility "for long-range program planning and policy development."

Abraham S. Venable, a 39-year-old Negro career government employee with experience in equal opportunity programs, was named to Roeser's old position.

Stans, sources said, disagreed with Roeser's view that OMBE should show some firm accomplishments before it sought publicity. The agency has been one of the most highly touted of the administration's new programs, with Stans personally conducting several of its news conferences.

Business ownership has become the keystone of the government's minority enterprise program, which grew out of the phrase "black capitalism" heard often during Nixon's campaign for the presidency.

OMBE has concentrated its efforts outside government, encouraging automobile and oil companies to take more dealers from among blacks, Mexicans, Indians and other minority groups.

Chiefs of the Northwest tribes — the Haida, Tsimshian, Tlingit, among others — strove to outdo each other's totem poles by taking on new names and emblems, and then having these self-proclaimed honors carved on larger and larger totems.

Nixon's Foreign Aid Bill Faces Further Chopping

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's foreign aid bill, already sharply cut, appears headed for a further, Republican-led money-trimming effort on the House floor.

Sportsmen Eye Fight On Firearms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sportsmen and gun club representatives from across Ohio will meet here Saturday, to consider forming a federation to oppose strict firearms registration and propose realistic solutions to the crime problem.

Lyle Goldsmith of Columbus, a trustee of the Ohio Rifle and Pistol Association, said the sportsmen hope to form a statewide organization and register as lobbyists in opposition to laws requiring firearms legislation and identification cards.

He said his organization, the Ohio Trapshooting Association, Ohio Skeet Association and other sportsmen, muzzle-loader, collector and conservationist groups will be represented at the meeting.

There is a chance, Goldsmith said, that Woodson Scott, president of the National Rifle Association, will attend.

Goldsmith said the Saturday afternoon meeting was called by Edward H. Mosher of Dayton, a member of the Ohio Rifle and Pistol association who also is chairman of the Dayton Area Citizens Committee for sensible Firearms Legislation.

Mosher has said he wants the new organization to seek a complete review of the court system and improvements in the judicial process as realistic steps toward solving the crime problem.

Indian Points Out 'Holdup Man'

DALLAS (AP) — A full-blooded Navajo Indian, the victim of a robbery, was asked to stand in the Dallas courtroom Wednesday and identify the man who robbed him.

The Indian did—and pointed to a man in the jury box, saying, "That's him."

However, after additional evidence was presented, the defendant, Emmett Murl Wagner Jr., 22, was found guilty and the juror was allowed to continue on the jury.

ana, the senior Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he will propose a deeper slash than the $542.5 million already knocked off Nixon's request by the House panel.

This collided with an administration drive to hold the line on the $2.19 billion aid ceiling for this year voted by the committee Wednesday. The measure is due for House action next month.

A top official of the aid-administering Agency for International Development termed Nixon's request modest and voiced hope the committee version "will be maintained" by the full House.

"The cost of about one penny of every dollar of the federal budget for our economic assistance programs to the developing nations is the minimum this country should provide," the high aid officer said, "and that is just about what we have asked." He asked not to be quoted by name.

What overseas assistance level Congress sets is regarded as particularly important this year in light of decreasing funds for the program in recent years.

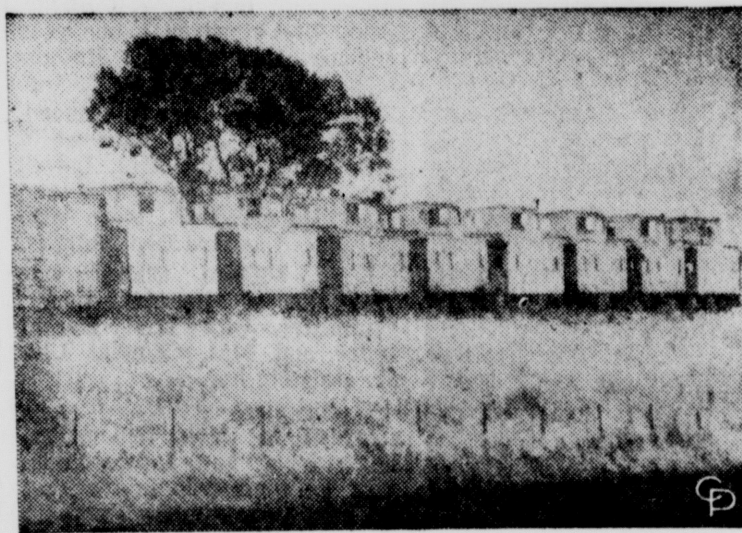

If Washington does not reverse this down trend, international aid groups have said, other countries may also slacken their aid efforts despite a growing gap between rich and poor nations.

However, both Adair and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., the committee chairman, indicated further cuts are likely.

Adair, a veteran critic of the legislation, said the only question is how much the cut will be. Morgan expressed hope the final House version could be held to at least the $1.97 billion authorized in 1968.

The overseas aid bill has never been politically popular on Capitol Hill and has proved especially vulnerable when Congress is in an economizing mood.

Also, the House committee action was only a first in a long legislative process before it becomes law.

He said his organization, the Ohio Trapshooting Association, Ohio Skeet Association and other sportsmen, muzzle-loader, collector and conservationist groups will be represented at the meeting.

There is a chance, Goldsmith said, that Woodson Scott, president of the National Rifle Association, will attend.

Goldsmith said the Saturday afternoon meeting was called by Edward H. Mosher of Dayton, a member of the Ohio Rifle and Pistol association who also is chairman of the Dayton Area Citizens Committee for sensible Firearms Legislation.

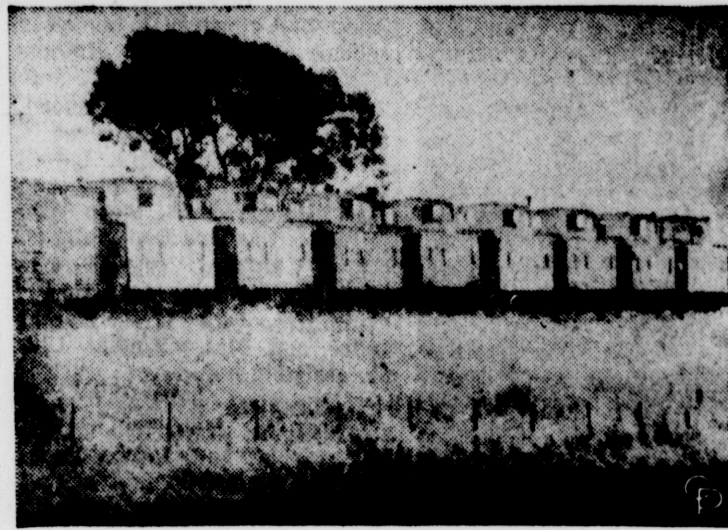

Mosher has said he wants the new organization to seek a complete review of the court system and improvements in the judicial process as realistic steps toward solving the crime problem.

Indian Points Out 'Holdup Man'

DALLAS (AP) — A full-blooded Navajo Indian, the victim of a robbery, was asked to stand in the Dallas courtroom Wednesday and identify the man who robbed him.

The Indian did—and pointed to a man in the jury box, saying, "That's him."

However, after additional evidence was presented, the defendant, Emmett Murl Wagner Jr., 22, was found guilty and the juror was allowed to continue on the jury.

Three School Issues To Appear On Ballot In Westfall District

INADEQUATE LIGHTING — Unshielded fluorescent lights hang from the ceiling of the Williamsport School Building. The lighting is inadequate. The Westfall District Board of Education has placed a $1,400,000 bond issue on the ballot Tuesday to provide for a new elementary building.

DARBY CLASSROOM — Because of crowded conditions in the schools of the Westfall District, adequate library and classroom facilities cannot be provided. This photo is of the Darby Twp. school. Note the room library in the left corner of the room.

ANCIENT SEATS — Students at Williamsport School must sit in ancient desks. The uncomfortable desks do not provide for a good learning atmosphere.

Three school issues for Westfall schools will appear on the ballot at the election November 4. They are:

Renewal of a 3.6 mill operating levy; A new 4 mill operating levy; A bond issue for a new elementary building.

The three issues will be on separate ballots. The first, the renewal of a 3.6 mill operating levy, is not a new tax. It is a part of our present 19 mills levied for the operation of the schools. In order to participate in State Aid, a school must have at least 17 1/2 mills levied locally. The loss of 3.6 mills would put the district below 17 1/2 mills and would mean the loss of Foundation money, or approximately $242,000 annually.

The second issue, the four mills for operational expenses, is a new tax. The district has not asked for any additional millage for operation since 1959. Continual rising costs of schools makes it necessary to ask for more millage. The present budget shows a deficit of $20,000 on January 1, 1970. Inflation has increased the cost of textbooks, supplies, maintenance, repairs and salaries of employees. As an example of the cost to a person owning a $20,000 home which is on the tax duplicate for 40 per cent of its true value, or $8,000, that taxpayer would pay $32.00 more per year. The new millage is vitally needed to meet the growing expenses of textbooks, maintenance of buildings, transportation and salaries.

The third issue is a $1,400,000 bond issue for a new elementary building to house grades 1-6 of the district.

A district may levy bonds up to nine per cent of its total valuation. In Westfall, at the present time, this amounts to $1,400,000. This amount is not enough to provide buildings for all the elementary pupils of the district. Present enrollment in grades 1-5 is 1189 with 250 in 7 and 8. Grades 7 and 8 would attend school at either Jackson or Monroe.

The present site of the high school building would be utilized for elementary buildings. At the present time two buildings are planned with grades 1-4 in one and 5-6 in another nearby building. When funds become available additional classrooms would be added to the second building to eventually house grades 5, 6, 7, and 8.

The bonds would mature in 22 years. Average millage as determined by the County Auditor, would be 3.4 mills.

Transportation would change. There would be single routing instead of dual. More busses would be required. High school day would be shorter. Elementary day would be longer.

Maintenance costs would be less. Fewer custodians would be required. Fewer Principals. Pupil teacher ratio would more nearly equal the ratio upon which State money is paid to the district.

Vandalism Causes Incinerator Damage

Mrs. Harold Tosca, 5038 E. Second St., South Bloomfield, notified the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department of a case of vandalism.

She reported some boys had upset an incinerator in her back yard and damaged it beyond repair.

The Sheriff's Department is investigating.

YMCA Sponsors Grid Trip To OWU Game

Reservations are now being taken for the YMCA sponsored Ohio Wesleyan-Baldwin Wallace football game trip Saturday.

A chartered bus will leave from the Y at 11:30 a.m. According to Harold Hewitt, reservations can be made by calling the YMCA office, 474-8621.

CROWDED CAFETERIA — The cafeteria at Monroe Twp. School is crowded and inadequate. It is located in the basement of the building. A proposed $1,400,000 bond issue would provide for an elementary complex at the site of the present Westfall District High School which would alleviate crowded conditions in the district's schools.

All dogs and cats will be vaccinated for $1. No one will be denied a vaccination for his pet, even if he does not have money to pay for it. The clinic is being sponsored by the Pickaway County Veterinary Medical Assn., the Pickaway County Board of Health and the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Organization.

Nader Sees More Consumer Bureaus Set Up By Nixon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Consumer champion Ralph Nader predicted here Wednesday that President Nixon would announce soon establishment of two new consumer offices and changes for two others.

Nader said President Nixon, in his forthcoming address on consumer affairs, will announce the post of assistant attorney general for consumer affairs and add a consumer protection program for the poor to the Office of Economic Opportunity.

He also said power for more "forceful" action will be given to the Federal Trade Commission. Nader speculated that the present job of White House advisor for consumer affairs will be made a statutory position, making it permanent in the government.

During a news conference, Nader took issue with famed anthropologist Margaret Mead, who recently advocated legalizing marijuana.

"There hasn't been sufficient testing of any of the drugs," Nader said, adding that he could not support legalization.

Nader said the banning of cyclamates, which a year ago he termed "untested and potentially harmful," was a step in the right direction.

He also said monosodium glutamate, a major additive for baby foods, was "totally without nutritional value" and was added to please the mother's sense of taste. The product recently was ordered removed from baby foods.

Nader reiterated his charge that "we're playing brinkmanship with the atmosphere," and said nothing will be done until people start dying from excess pollution. The fatal level of pollution has not "quite been reached" and therefore no action has been taken, he said.

United Appeal Hit By Legal Action

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —

A restraining order against the soliciting of United Appeal funds in the Cleveland public schools is sought in a suit filed in U.S. District Court by the Greater Cleveland Welfare Rights Organization.

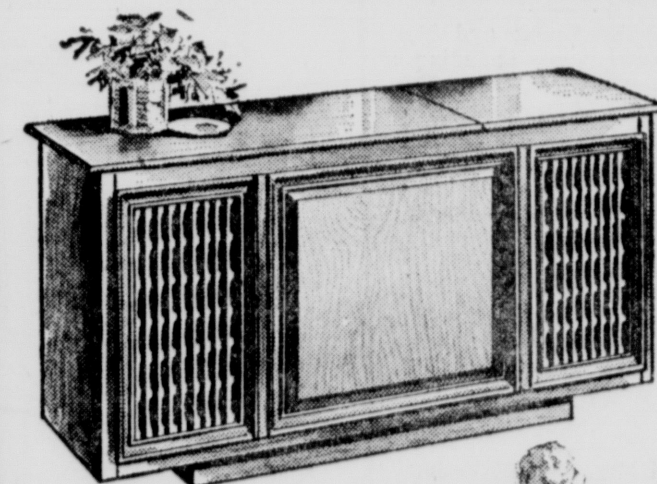

The Cleveland Board of Education was named defendant in the petition, filed Wednesday, which alleges pupils were intimidated and frightened into donating to the fund.

The grandmother of a 7-year-old girl claimed the child was beaten with a ruler because she failed to bring 25 cents to school for the fund.

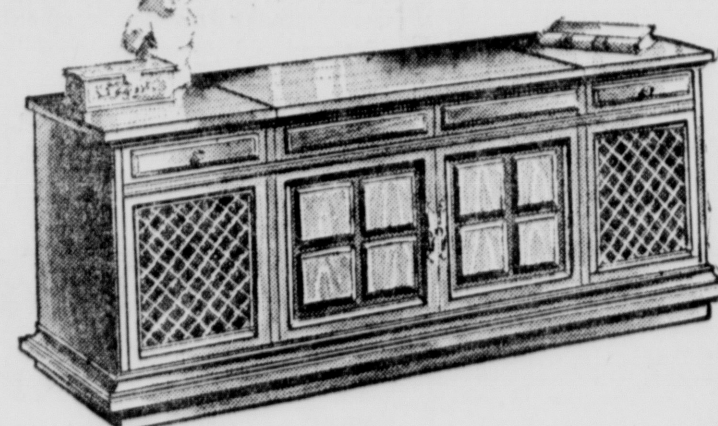

The largest of North America's freshwater fishes, sturgeons range from five to 12 feet long. The fish drags four sensitive barbels — a type of feeler — across the ocean bottom to help weak eyes find food.

Tigers Battle Heights' Falcons

Circleville's Tigers will take to the road Friday night for a big game with the Franklin Heights' Falcons.

Key injuries hurt the Falcons early in the season but as the injury list improved so did the team. They are now a solid ball club and have been playing havoc with their opponents.

"They are a versatile team," Tiger Coach Denny Williams revealed, "and can hurt you from a lot of angles."

"On the ground they will power, counter, and sweep," Williams said, "and like to keep the defense off balance. They are a hard club to contain."

"THEIR passing game is explosive," Coach Williams offered, "and can really stun you. They have a passer who can throw 60 yards with accuracy and two receivers capable of catching them."

"Heights has beaten Teays Valley and Washington Court House," Williams stated, "and

Spurrier Top AP Offensive Grid Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Spurrier, an understudy to John Brodie for three years, finally got a chance to show his stuff Sunday and responded with an effort that gave the San Francisco 49ers their first victory of the year.

Spurrier came to the 49ers in 1967 after winning the Heisman Trophy while breaking 15 school records at Florida and throwing 37 touchdown passes. He sat behind Brodie and George Mira for two seasons, confining his efforts to punting.

Mira was shipped away to Philadelphia this year so when Brodie came up with arm trouble, Spurrier got the ball. He had started two games in his rookie season and lost both.

"I don't want to sound as if I'm bragging," he said Sunday after the 24-21 upset over Baltimore, "but I played some better games at Florida," but he did a good job for the 49ers, enough to gain The Associated Press' nomination today as offensive player of the week in the National Football League.

It was no walkover for Spurrier. John Gilliam of the St. Louis Cardinals had a fantastic day at Cleveland, catching touchdown passes of 84, 79 and 15 yards from Charley Johnson in a 21-21 tie.

Donny Anderson, Green Bay's neglected halfback who has complained "play me or trade me," ran for 114 yards in 18 carries in the Packers' 28-10 victory over Atlanta.

Circleville Frosh In Season Finale

The Circleville freshmen will play their final game of the season Saturday at 10 a.m. at the junior high field when they host the Lancaster Stansberry freshmen.

Circleville's frosh are 5-0 for the season.

we are looking forward to a real battle."

The Tigers put on a brilliant aerial display at Wilmington and should show more of the same at Franklin.

Circleville's running game was curtailed by the Hurricane but is too good to be stopped two weeks in a row.

There should be plenty of offensive fireworks on display Friday night.

Mike Hamrick is still on the doubtful list for the Tigers but may be ready to go. The rest of the squad is in pretty good shape.

OFFENSIVELY the Tigers will field: Mike Webb and Bill Keener, ends; Mark Davey and Brent Liston, tackles; Dick Radcliff and Gary Robbins, guards; Craig Allison, center; Tom Bowers, quarterback; Mike Henderson, tailback; Dick Walters, righthalf; and Paul Bost, fullback.

The defensive unit will be: Bill Fowler and Liston, ends; Davey and Bost, tackles; Ian Griffey or Don Valentine, middle guard; Bill Thomas and Radcliff, linebackers; Mike Hamrick and Doyle Kiser, cornerbacks; Walters and Bowers, halfbacks.

SPORTS Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — The Southwest Conference has never been known for its defense, but the Arkansas Razorbacks seem intent on breaking with tradition this year.

The Razorbacks lead the nation in scoring defense in this week's major college football statistics released today by National Collegiate Sports Services. Arkansas has yielded only 27 points in five games, an average of 5.4 per contest.

Close behind is Dartmouth with 29 points and a 5.8 average. The 1964 Arkansas team is the only Southwest Conference team in history to win a scoring defense title.

Dartmouth is going for a triple, the first since Auburn in 1957. The Indians lead in total defense, giving only 176.2 yards per game, and in pass defense, 68 yards per contest.

Wyoming is the rushing defense leader with an incredible 18 yards per game. Only Penn State, at 17 in 1947, finished with a lower defensive yardage.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys is looking to Sunday's game with the Cleveland Browns as a close match that could go either way.

He said Wednesday that the 80,000 plus fans who jam Municipal Stadium will see a "tough see-saw battle, you know, one of those 21-17 games."

Landry revealed that his first-string quarterback, Craig Morton, was not up to par in Monday's meeting with the New York Giants where he completed only 11 of 26 passes, far below his 70 per cent completion record earlier in the year.

Arnold Plamer In 3rd Week Of Comeback

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer plunged into the third week of his comeback today with renewed confidence and a smile on his face, but plagued with a little impatience.

"No, I can't say I'm satisfied," Palmer said of his first two efforts after a two-month absence with an arthritic left hip.

He finished in a tie for 34th in the Sahara and a tie for 27th last week in the San Francisco Open. His total prize money for the two weeks was $1,174, not enough to pay the fuel bill for his private jet.

"I won't be satisfied until I start winning again," said the dynamic millionaire who is attempting to fight his way out of a prolonged slump. He hasn't won in more than a year.

But there have been some indications that the 40-year-old slugger gradually may be regaining the form that made him the game's all-time leading money winner.

He had a practice round 65, seven under par, and carded a sparkling 66 Wednesday, six under par, on the 6,849-yard North course of the Silverado Country Club, where three of the four rounds of the $140,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament will be played.

Both the North and South courses, each with a par 72, will be utilized today and Friday, with half the field playing first one, then the other. The North course will be used for the final two days.

"I'm playing better, it seems," Palmer admitted. "The last couple of weeks I just couldn't keep it together for four rounds."

In each tournament, one bad round blocked him out of contention. At Sahara, it was a horrendous nine on one hole. At San Francisco it was a third round 73.

Kentucky, Indiana Score ABA Wins; Nets Top Miami

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky led all the way while Indiana had a tougher time. But the outcome was the same as both teams scored victories Wednesday night and joined idle Carolina in a three-way tie for first place in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Kentucky turned in a balanced scoring attack in beating Dallas 122-117 while Indiana outscored Pittsburgh 20-8 in four minutes late in the game for a 129-113 victory.

All three clubs are 4-1 and lead Pittsburgh by one game in the East while Dallas, 6-3, still enjoyed a one game lead over Los Angeles, in the West despite the loss.

The New York Nets beat Miami 99-92 in the only other ABA game.

Tom Seaver To Receive Cy Young Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitching for the New York Mets has always been an experience, but never much of an honor until Tom Seaver came along.

Two years ago, Seaver won himself Rookie of the Year honors in the National League and now he has been selected the winner of the Cy Young Award as the league's best pitcher in 1969.

But Seaver represents more than just an honor or an award for the Mets; he represents the miraculous reversal for he was born out of a Mets' past that includes such master losers as Roger Craig, Craig Anderson, Jack Fisher, Jay Hook, Al Jackson, Galen Cisco and Tracy Stallard.

Only eight seasons ago when the Mets were created they lost a record 120 games and missed by a hair of becoming the first team with three 20-game losers.

In that first year, pitching for baseball's worst team ever, Craig lost 24 games, Jackson 20 and Hook 19. Anderson, who didn't pitch much during the final month, took 17 defeats.

Craig went on to lose 22 the next year, 18 of them in a row, and Stallard lost 20 and Cisco 19 in 1964.

Fisher was the big loser the next three years with 24, 14 and 18.

And the hitting and fielding were just as bad, making it easy for a pitcher to lose 20.

But 1967 marked the beginning of a new era. It heralded the appearance of young right-handed Seaver, the first Mets' pitcher with a future.

No one laughed when Tom Seaver took the mound. He was a 16-game winner that first year, but more important, he was a winner. He started the Mets thinking of victory rather than settling for defeat.

In 1968 Seaver again won 16 games and made the All-Star team for the second time. That year he was joined by Jerry Koosman, with 19 victories, and the Mets finished with their best record, 73-89.

Then came 1969 and Gary Gentry joined the staff and the Mets came up with some hitting and fielding. Seaver expanded into a 25-7 pitcher whose 10 straight victories at the end of the season sent the Mets to the East Division title.

He won the first game of a playoff sweep over Atlanta for the National League pennant and added another victory in a stunning five-game World Series rout of Baltimore, completing the Impossible Dream.

Seaver, a handsome 24-year-old graduate of the University of Southern California, finished the regular season with 35 starts and 18 complete games. His earned run average was 2.21 and he had five shutouts and 203 strike outs.

Seaver got 23 of the 24 Cy Young votes cast by the panel of the Baseball Writers Association of America and announced Wednesday, Atlanta's Phil Niekro, 23-13, got the other.

And there might be more for Seaver, who is vacationing with his wife Nancy and not expected back in New York until mid-November. He also is a strong candidate to repeat Bob Gibson's showing last year when he won both the Cy Young Award and was named the league's Most Valuable Player.

North Dakota Still On Top Of Small College Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undeclared North Dakota State remained on top in the Associated Press small college football poll but positions shifted among the challengers.

Sportswriters and sportscasters voting as members of the national panel awarded five first place votes and 213 points Wednesday to North Dakota State after its seventh victory, a 35-20 decision over Morningside.

Alcorn A&M, in fourth place last week, beat Southern University 27-7 for its fifth straight triumph and moved into second position with 166 points. Montana, 7-0, dropped from second to third with 153 points, despite two first place votes. Texas A&M, 6-0, slipped from third to fourth and Louisiana Tech, 5-0, zoomed from 12th to fifth after overhauling Chattanooga 55-7.

Sacramento State, 5-1, remained in sixth place, Delaware, 5-1, blanked Temple 33-0 and moved from eighth to seventh with 109 points.

Akron, 6-1, advanced from ninth to eighth after nipping Dayton 14-10. Akron gathered 81 points and one first place vote.

New Mexico Highlands, 5-0-1, joined the Top 10, moving into ninth place after finishing 14th last week. Rounding out the Top Ten was Humboldt, 6-0.

In the second ten, Arkansas State, 4-1, joined the rankings with an 11th place finished after beating Abilene Christian 34-22. Abilene Christian, 5-1, dropped from 10th to 16th. East Tennessee State, 6-0-1, slipped from seventh to 12th.

Buckeye's Cage Outlook Paints Bright Picture

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Taylor has been right six of the 11 years he said his Ohio State basketball team could win the Big Ten crown.

Taylor, who has directed the Buckeyes to six titles or co-titles, approaches his 12th season as Ohio State's head man with the same optimism.

With his top three scorers, Dave Sorenson, Jim Clemons and Jody Finney, back, Taylor has good reason for his outlook. But other Big Ten teams have ample veterans.

"The league will be something," he predicts. "Virtually everybody has a boatload of lettermen back. They'll probably pick Purdue to win."

The Boilermakers won the title with a 13-1 record last winter, four games ahead of Ohio State and Illinois who tied for second.

"We're awfully small," Taylor says with a grimace. "We got the devil kicked out of us on the boards last year and it's going to be a problem again."

Four expected starters, Craig Barclay, Dan Andrews, Clemons and Finney, are 6-3. Only Sorenson, a 6-7 senior from Findlay, represents any size. "We cannot overpower anybody with that size," Taylor admits, "so we will have to be patient on offense again. We are quicker than last year, too."

Sorenson, who should be one of college basketball's best centers this year, averaged 23.6 points last year while Clemons, a junior from Columbus, 16.6 and Springfield junior Finney 13.3.

Seniors Barclay from Newark and Andrews from Sugar Creek played in reserve behind Denny Meadows and Steve Howell during Ohio State's 17-7 season in 1968-69.

Taylor, who will seek his 200th coaching victory in Ohio State's opener Dec. 1 at Wake Forest, believes depth could be as good as two years ago when the Buckeyes finished third in the NCAA Tournament.

Injuries, however, are cutting into Ohio State reserve strength as Taylor prepares to trim the squad of 22 to 16 or 17 by next week.

Senior Guard Jim Geddes from Columbus is out another week with a dislocated shoulder. Two sophomores, 6-6 Gary Kiracofe from Preble Shawnee and 6-4 John Petty of Wilmington, have respective knee and back injuries.

Taylor, the only Big Ten coach in history to produce five straight crowns, thinks those three, 6-6 Warren senior Ed Smith, 6-5 Solon sophomore Mark Minor and 6-9 junior Mike Mackinn from Mayfield Heights will offer good support.

Jeff Miller, a 6-4 senior from Lima, has been advised to quit the sport because of a chronic knee injury. Miller started all 24 games as a sophomore but played sparingly in 10 contests a year ago.

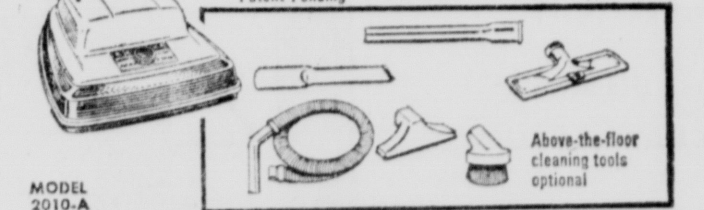

SPRINGS FORTH AGAIN—Marcia Lacabanni, 3, plays in a bubbling spring which has been dormant since 1905. The Kawana Springs in Santa Rosa, Calif.,—seven in number—were the center of attraction at a resort hotel before the turn of the century, but stopped flowing following the San Francisco '06 quake. Recent tremors reactivated them.

Officials Prepare For Epidemic Of German Measles

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Children living in the Columbus suburb of Worthington will be the first in Ohio to be vaccinated en masse for German measles.

In the next few months children—primarily in the five to 11 age group—will be vaccinated for German Measles in Cleveland, Toledo, Hamilton County and Mahoning County.

The big rush for mass vaccinations is to blunt the effect of what is expected to be a German measles epidemic in 1970-71.

Ohio Department of Health officials would like to make firm plans for mass vaccinations in other areas of the state, but supplies of the new vaccine for German measles is limited.

In Worthington between 2,000 and 3,000 children between the ages of one and 11 years are expected to turn out to be vaccinated on Sunday, Nov. 10.

The vaccine costs $2.25 a dose and Worthington will reimburse the federal government for half the cost. The federal vaccination program is being administered by the State Health Department in cooperation with local health departments.

William Martin, the states' assistant coordinator of the immunization program, said in Cleveland and Toledo the vaccine will be supplied free and will be used primarily for inner city children.

If the vaccine is available, about 15,000 children from kindergarten through the fifth grade living in a priority area from downtown Cleveland east to 105th Street will be vaccinated in December.

Toledo also hopes to conduct a mass immunization program for children in poverty areas before the end of the year. Plans there have not been firmed up.

Plans in Hamilton and Mahoning counties call for the immunization of all children. The communities involved will share the cost. A group is now forming in Hamilton County to raise $1 million to vaccinate about 270,000 public and parochial school students.

"We could have many more programs of immunization if we just had the vaccine," Martin said. "We hope that by January the vaccine will be more plentiful."

In Ohio as well as in other states mass vaccination programs for German measles have been slowed because only one company—Merck Sharp Dohme of West Point, Pa.—is licensed to produce the vaccine. Martin said he expects other companies to become licensed in the next few months. The first vaccine for German measles was approved by the federal government only last June.

To date, Ohio has received only 10,000 doses of the vaccine from the federal Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga., the city charged with distribution of the vaccine.

Martin said Ohio soon expects to receive "twice that amount if not more." A Columbus representative of Merck Sharp & Dohme said his company has been able to supply all private doctors and druggists in Ohio who have ordered the vaccine.

Martin said a German measles epidemic, which runs in six to seven year cycles, "could hit as early as the spring of 1970 or even as late as 1971." In 1964, he said, there were 19,194 reported cases of German measles in Ohio compared with 2,953 in 1963 and 2,348 in 1965.

German measles, commonly known as three-day measles, is technically called rubella. The disease is mild, usually causing a mild fever, rash, headache and sometimes a cough and sore throat.

German measles reserves its killing and deforming powers for unborn infants.

The last U.S. epidemic in 1964 caused nearly 29,000 spontaneous abortions and stillbirths. It left an equal number of children with physical and mental defects, from blindness to im-becility. The State Health Department estimates that 500 children in Ohio were born deformed as a result of the 1964 epidemic.

German measles is easily passed on among youngsters in kindergartens and lower grades of school. The danger is that the children bring the disease home to mothers who are in the early stages of pregnancies.

The U.S. Public Health Department has decided on the principle of "herd immunity" to fight German measles. It has worked well against both polio and common measles.

Instead of vaccinating women who are likely to become pregnant, it has recommended to both private and public health doctors to vaccinate all children up to 11-years of age.

Its goal is to immunize virtually all of the 50 million in this age bracket in the United States within a few years.
